Crash of Big U.S. Transport Plane in Payette Area Brings Death in Flames to 19 Aboard

PAYETTE, Oct. 10 (AP)—A transport plane crashed and burned near here Thursday night, killing its crew of five and 14 of the men who serviced the famed Thunderbirds, the air force's acrobatic jet team. The Thunderbirds are based at Nellis air force base near Las Vegas, Nev. An air force officer said 14 support-maintenance personnel from the famed flying unit were being transported by the C123 plane, which was based at Pope air force base in North Carolina. All 19 aboard the plane were killed instantly as it smashed to the ground.

A team of air force investigators probed the charred wreckage today in an effort to determine the cause.

At Pope air force base, officials said the two-engined plane had been flying an extended support mission for the Thunderbirds, and had left Pope about Oct. 1.

There were indications that the crash came while the pilot was attempting a wheels-down emergency landing. There also was speculation that the craft may have run into a flock of geese, contributing to the disaster.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to be gliding in for a landing just before it smashed nose first into a brush-covered hillside on a ranch near this southwest Idaho community.

"There were three lights blinking and the wheels were down," said irrigation worker Norman Meadows. "It looked like he was going to try and make a landing."

Officials from Idaho's Mountain Home air force base said the 19 aboard were all air force personnel. They said the plane was en route to McChord field, Tacoma, Wash., from Pope.

Sheriff Ray Stephens said some witnesses told him they saw a flock of geese in the area at the time of the crash.

The bodies of the victims lay overnight in and around the wreckage on a narrow sagebrush-covered ridge six miles east of here.

The plane crashed about 6:15 p.m.

Teachers Told Russians Committed to Education For Advance of Nation

Area teachers gathered in Twin Falls for their annual institute were told Friday morning that the Soviet Union is "committed to education as a means of national advancement." Dr. John B. Whitelaw, chief for teacher education, U. S. office of education, department of health, education and welfare, who spent nearly a month in Russia early in the spring, told listeners, "In the organization of a planned society in the Soviet Union, education is regarded as the chief resource and technique for achieving social, economic, cultural and scientific objectives in the national interest." More than 1,000 fourth district Idaho Education association members gathered in the Twin Falls senior high school gymnasium heard Dr. Whitelaw report that the "comprehensive support afforded education by all segments and agencies of Soviet society is 'tremendous.'" Dr. Whitelaw also noted responsibilities placed on the educational system in Russia are "tremendous."

Whitelaw and nine other educators, four from the office of education and five from outside the government, visited the Soviet Union from May 8 until June 5, studying Soviet education in general, but especially the 10-year school and teacher education. The team made a 4,500-mile swing within the USSR, visiting Moscow, Kazan, Sverdlovsk, Alma-Ata, Tashkent, Sochi, Minsk and Leningrad.

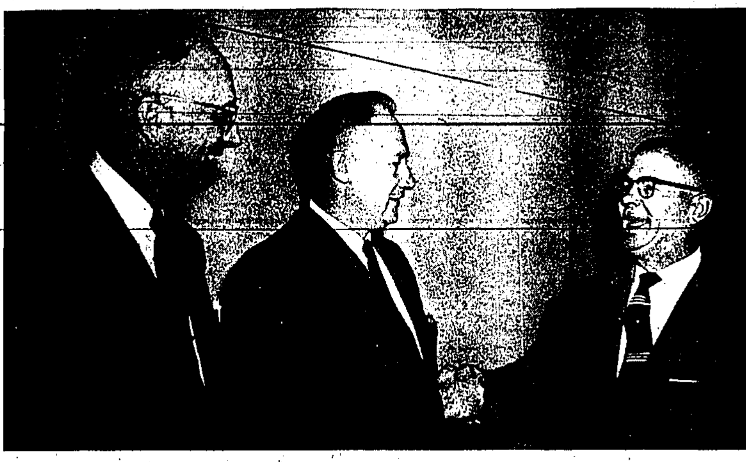

The visit was made possible by an agreement Jan. 27 between the governments of the United States and the Soviet Union.

"The most impressive fact that I learned from my 29 days in the Soviet Union is the appalling ignorance of all of us in the United States concerning what is going on in the USSR," Whitelaw said.

Whitelaw said this general ignorance extends to the historical and ideological background of Soviet society and the significance of cur-

Railroad Blamed for Delay on Underpass

The Union Pacific railroad is responsible for the delay in starting work on the proposed underpass at the Eastland drive crossing of the railroad tracks just south of Kimberly road, a member of the Twin Falls highway district said Thursday night. Answering questions on highway construction asked him by members of the Agricultural division of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, Ralph Olmstead, junior member of the board, said the project has been engineered and appropriations have been made for the underpass. He said the plans have been submitted to the railroad for approval. Work cannot commence until the plans are approved by the railroad, he said. The project is financed by the highway district, railroad and federal government.

Olmstead said he hoped the underpass could be made a winter project.

"It is disappointing to me as a highway commissioner," he said, "to have this all cooked up and no work being done. They're going to fool around until another man will be killed out there.

"If there was an accident out there tomorrow, everyone would get all fired up and something would be done. Why can't something be done before an accident does happen?" he asked. The Agricultural division decided to take steps to hasten the project.

In answer to a question as to why all highway districts in the county could not be consolidated, Olmstead said it would be possible were it not for the pride of the smaller districts. He said it does not seem right that a man living on one side of a road should pay one tax rate for highways and the man on the other side pay another just because they are

Nationalist Jet Attack Downs 4 Red Planes

TAIPEI, Formosa, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek today announced nationalist Sabre jets shot down four red China MIG 17s in an air battle near Matsu early on their double-10 holiday.

It is China's 47th independence anniversary, commemorating Oct. 10—the 10th day of the 10th month—1911 when the Chinese Republic was set up by Sun Yat-sen.

Chiang's announcement came shortly after the defense ministry reported that more than 20 MIGs battled six nationalist jets.

The first reports said the Sabre jets were on patrol southeast of Matsu when they sighted the communist planes approaching from the mainland. The Sabres were ordered to fly back to Formosa but the MIGs pursued them and opened fire, the ministry said. The nationalists returned the fire.

The self-imposed red cease-fire in Formosa strait continued into its fifth day.

Water Supply Carryover Is Short of 1957

By The Associated Press

Carryover of water in reservoirs that feed the thirsty southern Idaho farmlands during the irrigation season is a bit less than it was a year ago, figures provided by the U. S. bureau of reclamation showed today.

Boise river reservoirs finished the season with more water than they had last year, the report showed, but carryover was down in reservoirs of the upper Snake river valley.

Storage in 12 reservoirs in the area added up to 2,519,830 acre feet, compared with 2,631,160 a year earlier. Individually, they held these amounts:

Snake river—Jackson Lake, 493,- acre feet this year and 615,300 acre feet a year ago; Palisades, ,000 and 622,700; Henrys Lake, ,000 and 60,000; Island Park, 17,- and 50,460; American Falls, ,700 and 282,000; Lake Walcott, ,530 and 93,900.

Payette river — Cascade, 360,000 and 374,000; Deadwood, 74,000 and ,000.

Boise river—Anderson Ranch, ,000 and 325,000; Arrowrock, 53,- and 30,000; Lucky Peak 111,000 and 20,000; Lake Lowell, 96,000 and ,000.

Powerful New Weapon OK'd For Air Force

ORLANDO, Fla., Oct. 10 (AP)—The air force plans to arm its supersonic fighter bombers with a powerful new air-to-surface missile, the White Lance.

Reports say the missile would be nuclear tipped.

The weapon, an improved version of the navy Bullpup, will be manufactured by the Martin company missile division here.

Not Announced Name

The air force has not yet formally announced the name. However, it is no longer a secret within the tactical air command. A section of the Martin plant already has become known as the White Lance department.

The new super Bullpup was designed to multiply the destructive capability of the North American F100 and Republic F105 fighters.

It would be used in attacks on grounded aircraft, ships, bridges and on ground support and assignments requiring a high degree of accuracy.

Fills Gap

It would fill a gap in air force weapons, providing greater accuracy than is possible with conventional bombs and offering greater firepower than is available with rockets such as the Sidewinder. The Sidewinder is designed to shoot down attacking aircraft and is not particularly effective against ground targets.

The air force reportedly has not yet made a decision as to the type of improved guidance to be ordered. Known to be under consideration is a television guidance system that would enable the pilot to control the missile even beyond visual range. Some of the air force leaders hope that such a system would be unnecessarily costly and complex.

EDUCATOR PASSES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 10 (AP)—Dr. Walter A. Baepler, 65, president of the Concordia Theological seminary in Springfield since 1953, died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack.

Brennan and Derr Feature Demos' Rally

Democratic standard bearers A. M. Derr and Tim Brennan Thursday blasted Republican policies, the state and federal administrations and predicted for Twin Falls voters a Democratic victory in the November election.

Both candidates, in bids for election, led a Democratic caravan around Twin Falls county Thursday afternoon before addressing a crowd at the American Legion hall. The talks by Derr, Brennan, state and county candidates followed a buffet dinner.

The dinner and meeting were sponsored by the Twin Falls county-Democratic-Women's club headed by Mrs. Vincent Smazal and Mrs. Robert L. Summerfield, state vice chairman of the women's division of the Democratic party. John Walters, state Democrat committee chairman, was present.

Derr promised, if elected, to "take immediate steps to relieve the state tax burden and institute a financial program which will provide revenue for state administration."

Described as "the man with a plan," Derr told of his proposals for farm aid and surplus water storage. "We must take advantage of the tourist trade. We must provide entertainment and a reason for the tourist to spend an extra day in this state," Derr said. "This out-of-state money can be used to pay taxes and bring back Democratic prosperity."

He said great benefits, both financial and agriculture-wise, will be realized by a proper floodwater storage program. Derr promised farm support legislation with pre-

Four Speeders Cited In T.F. Radar Check

City police cited four speeders Thursday while using the department's radar unit on Blue Lakes boulevard north and another for exceeding the 25 mile an hour limit on Main avenue south. All have five days to appear in court to plead to speeding charges. Those clocked by radar and their speeds were Dennis Bolton, 33 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone; Wilber Neer, 36; Leonard Ridley, 36, and Eugene Klaas, 34. Raymond Slater, 19, was cited for driving 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Main avenue south.

Maria Del Rosario Salazar, Red Wing, Colo., was arrested for driving while intoxicated on highway 30 south of Rupert Thursday night. Deputy Sheriff Hubert Warrell, Cassia county, stopped her and notified the Rupert sheriff's office and Minidoka Sheriff Theo Johnson made the arrest. She asked for an attorney and will appear Wednesday morning before Probate Judge George Redford for arraignment. She is being held in the Minidoka county jail.

Ruth Butler, Jerome, was fined $15 by Police Judge Roberta Kehrer Friday morning on failure to yield the right-of-way. She was cited by Jerome Police Chief Fred Abrams following a minor accident Thursday evening when the 1950 Chevrolet she was driving from a parking space hit the rear fender of 1958 Dodge pickup truck driven by George L. Benrose, Gooding.

William P. Ayers, Eden, was fined $15 and costs when he appeared Wednesday before Eden Justice of the Peace Ralph Law for driving 70 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. He was cited by State Patrolman Marvin S. Wright.

Denny Shatton, Elmore county, was fined $10 and $3 costs for speeding when he appeared Thursday before Acting Police Judge N. O. Griffith, Gooding.

Speedups Set On Work Bill Voting Move

By United Press International

The so-called right-to-work initiative, oft overlooked in the heat of the general election campaign races, pushed to the fore today with announcements from opposing factions that it'll be full steam ahead until Nov. 4.

Spokesmen for both sides said the campaign will be stepped up both in velocity and publicity during the three weeks immediately preceding the Nov. 4 election, when voters will decide for or against a right-to-work initiative for Idaho.

Fred J. Smith, executive secretary of the Idaho Freedom to Work committee, said his organization has volunteer groups working in every county of the state.

"Reports received from these groups," he said, "have indicated favorable reaction toward the right-to-work initiative."

Joe N. Leggat, Boise, chairman of the Idaho Council for Industrial peace, which is fighting to whip the initiative, said "members of organized labor are aroused to the point where they are actively carrying their side of the issue to other elements in their communities."

"We feel very optimistic," Leggat said.

Former Teller at Hailey Sentenced

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—Mary Feliciela Allred, former Hailey bank teller, pleaded no contest Thursday to a charge of embezzling $404. She received a suspended sentence of six months.

U. S. Dist. Judge Chase A. Clark set the sentence after hearing the plea.

The charge accused the woman of embezzling the money last July while working as a teller in the Hailey branch of the First Security bank.

Polio Hits Peak

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The 1958 peak for polio cases definitely appears to have come during the third week in September.

A public health service official said today the trend since has been downward.

Testing Tower Disintegrated By AEC Blast

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., Oct. 10 (UPI)—A 100-foot tower disintegrated early today as a brief, but fierce fireball exploded just after dawn in the fourth full scale shot of the U. S. atomic energy commission's final announced test series.

The AEC's first tower shot on American soil this year, "Quay," named for a New Mexico county near Los Alamos, exploded with the force of less than a single kilotron over Yucca flat at 6:30 a.m. PST.

"Small Shot"

AEC officials called it a "small" shot.

Observers on News Nob, some 11 miles from ground zero, said the sub-kiloton detonation was exploded to prove the AEC's expectation that "certain" procedures in nuclear blast could be observed from a stationary platform.

In this small scale shot, the fireball came close—but not near the ground. Only the tower appeared to suffer, tumbling in awkward fashion and then disappearing amidst the dust cloud which rose from the desert floor.

First From Tower

It was the first of the 1958 fall series fired from a tower. It followed by two days an underground nuclear explosion on a mesa near the Nevada test site, some 75 miles northwest of Los Vegas.

Outwardly—as designed by the AEC—the shot seemed less than the power of 1,000 tons of TNT, indicating that "certain diagnostic observations" were necessary from the stationary platform before a proposed Oct. 31 international ban on nuclear tests.

Ocean Crossed by Big U.S. Aircraft

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill., Oct. 10 (AP)—The first Pacific crossing by the air force's four-engine C133 Cargomaster was announced last night by the military air transport service.

The turbo-prop giant made the flight of 2,142 nautical miles from Travis air force base, Calif., to Hickam air force base, in 8 hours, 58 minutes.

The Cargomaster was described as the first air carrier capable of carrying nuclear and other advanced weapons to strategic destinations with speed and efficiency.

Hurricane Janice Increases Speed

MIAMI, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Hurricane Janice upped its top force to 90 miles an hour today and bore down on the busy North Atlantic shipping lanes.

The hurricane, long since written off as a threat to land areas, posed a definite menace to shipping as it churned northeastward some 200 miles northwest of Bermuda. The weather bureau advised all ships in the area to exercise "extreme caution."

Janice, which appeared to be weakening yesterday, unexpectedly picked up new strength in the comparatively cool waters near Bermuda during the night.

Chilly

Below normal temperatures and "little if any" rain are predicted for Magic Valley in the five-day weather forecast received here via Associated Press.

"The weather's got no right to be chilly at this time of the year," commented the AP reporter as he read this forecast:

"Temperatures averaging below normal, maximums generally 55 to 65, minimums mostly in the 30's. A little rain, mostly over the week-end, except little if any rain in southwestern Idaho."

Builders Elect

SUN VALLEY, Oct. 10 (AP)—The International Association of Building Officials plans to elect officers and adopt resolutions Friday at the close of its week-long annual meeting here.

A spokesman for the group of public officials from around the nation said the association held workshops and discussions this week and would make no public pronouncements until later Friday.

Employment Picture Is Brighter for U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Unemployment dropped by 588,000 in September, marking what the government called a significant improvement in the job situation. The joint monthly report of the commerce and labor departments said unemployment declined from 4,699,000 in August to 4,111,000 in September. This was about twice the usual seasonal decline between August and September. Employment also dropped, falling from 65,367,000 to 64,629,000 or a decline of 738,000. This is usual as students go back to school at this time of year.

About one million students quit summer jobs to return to classes this year.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell said:

"A sharp pickup among adult men in nonfarm activities was chiefly responsible for reducing the unemployed total to its lowest level for the year thus far. Hiring was especially brisk in automobile plants and steel mills, and among producers of home appliances. In addition, there was the usual expansion in school staffs."

An early autumn lull in farm activity, as well as the customary September withdrawal of students from the labor market, contributed toward the decline in employment.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment fell to 7.2 per cent in September from 7.6 per cent in August.

A year ago in September, when unemployment was 2,552,000 or 1,559,000 lower than September this year, the unemployed ratio was 4.5 per cent.

Factory employment increased by 240,000 in September to 15,700,000. The pickup was concentrated in the

Army Jupiter Flight Ended By Explosion

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Oct. 10 (AP) — A powerful Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile veered crazily in the sky and exploded 32 seconds after launching last night.

One huge section of the broken rocket crashed back on the cape, but no one was injured. Shattered debris also rained on the Atlantic just off the cape.

The army announced some 40 minutes after the spectacular explosion that the missile "apparently went out of control shortly after launching and was destroyed by the range safety officer who dispersed the remaining fuel before it impacted on a vacant area of the cape."

The huge war rocket burst apart with a violent roar several thousand feet up after a spectacular lift-off at 10:50 p.m.

One large piece of the missile impacted back on the cape with a thunderous roar about half a mile

Crash Victim List Released By Air Force

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR FORCE BASE, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Air force officials here today released the names of the 19 persons killed in the crash of an airforce C-123 cargo plane near Payette last night.

Officials said that there were no addresses available, other than the crew was from Pope air force base, N. C., and the passengers were from Nellis air force base, Nev.

Two of the passengers were civilians, identified as Stanley A. Sheeda and Joseph Paul, North American aviation technical representatives assigned to Nellis air force base.

Other dead included the crew, Capt. J. C. Wilson, Jr., aircraft commander; First Lieut. J. H. Frisby, pilot; First Lieut. T. M. Lampsa, co-pilot; S/Sgt. J. M. Haurer, engineer, and A/1c J. C. Miller, load master.

Meeting for LDS Launched in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—The 128th semi-annual general conference of the LDS church opened here today in the historic Salt Lake tabernacle.

Thousands of Mormons from all parts of the world were here for the three-day session which ends Sunday with the major address of President David O'McKay, 85-year-old leader of the world's 1½ million Mormons.

The Mormon faith was explained at the opening session by Stephen L. Richards, first counselor in the LDS first presidency. He told the conference delegates that Mormons believe Christian doctrine has been subject to misinterpretation for centuries.

Tale of Doughty Canine Wags To Tranquil End in California

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 10 (AP)—Meet Maverick, a doughty Doberman Pinscher whose defiance of authority, contempt for conformity and rejection of security have made him a hero in the world of man.

Maverick raided himself from a pup and for four years stayed several jumps ahead of the dogcatchers. They couldn't outsmart him so they finally overpowered him last week after slowing him up with a tranquilizing charge fired from a gun.

The city's dogcatchers, who hung the name Maverick on him, told of the four years they spent trying to catch the big black stray.

They chased him by car and on foot but never came close.

They baited traps with meat in which capsules of tranquilizing drugs were concealed. Maverick ate the meat and spat out the drugs.

They finally realized the kind of adversary they were up against when they put a female boxer in a cage with a one-way door. Maverick ripped off the back of the cage and took the lady dog into the hills with him.

At the same time he was outwitting the dogcatchers, Maverick was rebuffing all efforts by friendly residents to domesticate him. He accepted their food, raided their garbage pails, but took to his heels when they spoke of settling down.

The captured Maverick was under death sentence at the city pound unless someone adopted him. Then newspaper readers learned of his exploits and flooded the city with 1,000 requests for the animal.

So they auctioned him off yesterday. Mrs. Harry Crown of nearby Van Nuys plunked down $130 for the dog.

"I feel that a dog who supported himself for four years deserves a good home," said Mrs. Crown as she led Maverick to her sleek red convertible.

Then Maverick rode in triumph to Mrs. Crown's 2½-acre estate.

NEWS BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—A state department spokesman today accused communist China of giving "a distorted report" to other countries on the progress of U. S.-Red Chinese negotiations to end the conflict in the Formosa area.

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 10 (AP)—The United States called on red China today to extend the cease-fire at Quemoy, authoritative sources reported.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UPI)—The agriculture department today estimated the 1958 corn crop at 3,680,216,000 bushels. This compares with the September estimate of 3,586,766,000 bushels.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 10 (UPI)—The Soviet Union today attacked a U. S.-British proposal for a one-year moratorium on nuclear weapons tests to begin when talks on the subject open in Geneva, Oct. 31.

Teacher Meet Told Goals of Soviet School

rent events in the Soviet Union.

The trip to Russia had two purposes, the educator explained, to lay the foundations for friendly and productive cultural relations between the educational agencies, organizations and institutions of the two countries, and to secure as much first-hand information concerning the actual operation of schools in the Soviet Union as might be possible.

"The 10-year school and teacher education for the 10-year school were the chief objects of our inquiry," he said.

Whitelaw said developments in the organization and practices of education at all levels in the USSR during the past 41 years have been "astounding for their velocity and distance."

"To be sure," Whitelaw commented, "there were some excellent pre-revolutionary foundations of attitudes, institutions and traditions of Russian education upon which the communist regime has built. However, good education was restricted in pre-revolutionary days to a minuscule proportion of the population of the vast area."

Whitelaw said "extraordinary strides" made in raising the cultural level of a nation of some 200 million people in 41 years can be compared only to the "rapid educational and technological development of Japan from 1850 to 1925."

Commenting on the people he met, Whitelaw said, "It was my impression that the people generally feel that conditions are improving gradually. They are looking ahead for 5, 10, 15 or 20 years. They appear to be completely confident about achieving a quality of life and a standard of living fully as high as ours, but they accept the fact that it will take time and that life is still pretty rigorous compared to the material comforts of most western countries."

Whitelaw said "complete equality" existed in Russia between men and women. "As far as I could see, there was little evidence of, or interest in, sex appeal." The educator said a professor at the University of Leningrad told him, "With us, boys and girls, men and women, are partners. We are partners in education, partners in love and partners in work."

College students in Russia are "vital, enthusiastic and friendly." "Most of them are from families who were illiterate before the revolution," he continued. "They are very much concerned about world peace. They are worried about us. They are most anxious that we carry their friendly greetings to American students and to assure American youth that Soviet students want peace," he said.

Whitelaw said Soviet education at the elementary and secondary levels is uniform and appeared to be formal and rigid. "It is at the level of higher education, after completing his secondary education, that the Soviet student gets his head. There the sky is the limit. His rate of progress depends primarily upon his own mental ability and stamina," he noted.

"There seems to be considerable resistance in the United States to accepting the facts concerning what is going on inside the Soviet union. To me, this attitude constitutes a grave danger to our general welfare and national security. It is important for us to realize that practically all that has been accomplished in the Soviet Union has been done in the last 41 years," he pointed out.

Dr. Boyd A. Martin, dean of the college of letters and science, University of Idaho, told the group the United States "is in a dire need of a greater balance among the fields of knowledge if we are going to turn out balanced cultural products."

"Man's total experience, not including his religious experience, can be divided into four basic fields, the physical sciences, the biological sciences, the social sciences and the humanities."

Dr. Martin told the group "a balanced system of education must be based on all four fields of knowledge."

"A sound educational system in a democracy has at least seven major objectives, first, to liberate humans from the tyranny of illiteracy and inarticulateness; second, to enable humans to push back the frontiers of ignorance; third, to liberate humans from an insensitivity to high human values; fourth, to liberate humans from provincialism; fifth, to prepare all men to carry their full share of civic responsibility; sixth, to train boys and girls to make proper deductions from facts, and seventh, to prepare them for an occupation or profession."

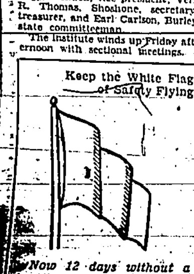

District teachers also heard the retiring state superintendent of public instruction, Alton B. Jones, discuss the recently enacted national defense act and Idaho education history.

Jones outlined what the law will mean for Idaho school systems.

New district officers elected Thursday afternoon are Harry Kurtz, Hazelton, president; Wayne Pagg, Wendell, vice president; Vern R. Thomas, Shoshone, secretary-treasurer, and Earl Carlson, Burley, state committeeman.

The institute winds up Friday afternoon with sectional meetings.

Pius Returned, in Death, to Vatican

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Pope Pius XII returned in death to Vatican City tonight, mourned by millions and honored with all the panoply of the Roman Catholic church.

The body of the late pontiff crossed the border into the Vatican state as dusk was falling. It was borne in a long and solemn procession from Castel Gandolfo, where he died yesterday, into Rome and then across the eternal city before the eyes of a million watchers.

Members of the Sediari—the men who carried his ceremonial gestatorial chair in life—bore the pope's casket through the portals of St. Peter's basilica and placed it before the majestic altar of the confession.

Record Foreseen For Crops in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UPI)—A harvest time government report indicated today that this year's crop production will top the previous record high by nearly 11 per cent.

Reporting this prospect, the agriculture department said generally favorable weather and harvesting conditions during September boosted production prospects above that of a month earlier.

The previous record was set in 1948 and matched in 1956 and 1957.

Featuring this year's production are indicated record crops of both wheat and corn, the two major grains.

Army Jupiter Flight Ended By Explosion

from a service tower that reportedly houses the next U. S. moon rocket.

Crash trucks raced to the scene when a large fire broke out. An hour after the breakup, smoke still swirled around the air force Thor IRBM towers.

As the missile climbed it appeared to stray somewhat to the left. Then the safety officer pressed a big red button and the mighty missile shattered with a flash. The broken pieces flashed white flame on and off as they fell earthward.

This was the first attempt to launch a fully tactical version of the army's powerful intermediate range ballistic missile. The Jupiter will provide the first stage for the army's moon rocket.

This was the first time the dependable Jupiter had exploded in 11 launchings up to now. Six of the shoots had been labeled completely successful, while four others were considered partial successes.

To press observers 1½ miles from the scene, it appeared that the air force moon rocket tower itself escaped damage.

For all practical purposes, the 60-foot rocket fired Thursday night was the same as the missile that the army expects to deploy with NATO forces in Europe, probably by next December.

Once again, the huge Jupiter was topped by a 1½-ton wedge-shaped nose cone that twice before had shown it could survive fiery reentry through the earth's atmosphere at 1,500-mile range with amazing success.

It was learned that the Jupiter was aimed at a range somewhat shorter than its 1,500-nautical-mile capability. However, no attempt would have been made to recover the nose cone.

It was the second time in two weeks that a missile has exploded and plummeted back on the cape. On the previous occasion a Polaris test vehicle was deliberately destroyed shortly after launching.

PTA's Board Gets Reports At Local Meet

Committee reports were given Thursday evening during a meeting of the Bickel school PTA executive board at the home of Ralph Olmstead.

Mrs. Thomas Olmstead reported program yearbooks would be distributed soon.

The group decided to sponsor Cub Scout, Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls units this year. Robert Beer, Cub Scout representative, said three Cub Scout dens already were started, with Mrs. Charles Dover, Mrs. Frank Carroll and Mrs. Lyle Hampton as den mothers. The first jack meeting will be held Nov. 20.

Mrs. John Pool reported all posters in the contest to publicize "Family Fun Night" had been submitted for judging. She said many posters had come from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Mrs. Julian Johnson reported that work on the "Family Fun Night" which is the only fund raising project of the year, is progressing satisfactorily. The event will be held Friday, Oct. 17.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, hospitality chairman, reported members of the Bickel PTA executive board have been helping serve at the coffee hours at the teachers institute. Julian Johnston, co-president, conducted the meeting.

ference to small farmers in the distribution of water.

He plugged hard for his casino type gambling program. "Let licensed casino type gaming on a local option basis carry the tax load for better schools and municipalities," Derr said. "Those communities that don't want it, legally that is, won't have it. However, I can see no reason why every community shouldn't have legalized gaming because all have the illegal variety now."

Derr did not use the word gambling but used the word "gaming" during his talk.

Prior to Derr's and Brennan's talks, Mrs. Summerfield introduced state and county candidates. Twin Falls County Democratic Chairman Lloyd J. Walker spoke briefly predicting a November Democratic victory in Twin Falls county.

"This has traditionally been a Republican stronghold. If every precinct committeeman will work hard and support our candidates we will achieve victory in the fall," he said.

Brennan lashed at Republican Rep. Hamer Budge's voting record and asked: "What has he done for Idaho? In my conversations with residents up and down the main street of Twin Falls I found many who had never heard of Hamer Budge."

Brennan outlined a proposed survey and report he has instituted which, he claims will provide a list of project and actions to increase Idaho's economic activity.

"I have a comprehensive study of Idaho's farm situation under way," Brennan said. "We hope to get to the grass roots of Idaho's farm problems and devise an equitable solution."

Brennan said the survey and report were wide in scope and require a great amount of time and effort. "I intend to draw my information from the people but invite groups and organizations to submit proposals and recommendations."

The young candidate for congressman from Idaho's second district said Republicans' lack of planned economic development has cost Idaho a large percentage of its growth and prosperity.

"We must make a detailed analysis of our development possibilities and provide ourselves with a goal and a yardstick of accomplishments or we will continually be faced with a lagging economy," Brennan declared.

Other state candidates addressing the Democrats were Mrs. Ruth Moon, state treasurer; W. E. Drevlow, candidate for lieut. governor; Frank L. Benson, candidate for attorney general; Arnold Williams, candidate for secretary of state; Joe R. Williams, candidate for state auditor; D. F. Engelking, candidate for superintendent of education, and George Fletcher, superintendent of mines and county candidates.

16 minutes after it checked in over the CAA control tower at Boise.

Sheriff Stephens said several witnesses told him they saw a flock of geese in the area. They speculated the plane might have run into the geese in midair.

But State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton said he did not believe this could have caused the crash.

One of the witnesses, Eldro Gisell, a rancher, said the plane appeared to be flying through the flock and added:

"The formation of geese broke up and birds flew in all directions. Then I heard the plane's engines sputter . . . and it seemed to stall. For a brief moment it sounded like the engines roared wide open and the plane seemed to pull up. Then it knifed downward and I heard the explosion."

Bob Daniels, who farms on the property where the plane hit, was plowing only 200 yards from the crash. He made a fire line around the plane to prevent the flames from spreading.

Hayride Set On Saturday

JEROME, Oct. 10—The Northside chapter of DeMolay will hold a hayride in trucks Saturday night, leaving the hall at 8 p. m. and 8:45 p. m. It was announced at the regular meeting earlier in the week.

Robert Terrill and James Neal are in charge of arrangements for the hayride.

It was reported the DeMolay degree was given for the Gooding chapter by Dale Vandergrift and Malcolm Stuart who accompanied 14 boys on the trip. Robert Roy Atwood was accepted as a new member.

The Mother's club met in the basement room with Mrs. Maxine Neal presiding. Plans were made for a coffee hour at each member's home during October to raise funds. Officers for the present term are Mrs. Neal, president; Mrs. John Parkinson, vice president, and Mrs. Kennedy Stuart, secretary-treasurer. At the close of the evening the mothers served refreshments to the boys.

Waren Kays and D. D. Vandegrift were guests at the DeMolay meeting.

Fund Boosts Are Eyed for U.S. Services

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UPI)—An announcement that the military services will be seeking increased funds from the next congress today dimmed hopes of moving back toward a balanced budget.

The army, navy and air force are preparing "urgent" budgets calling for a total of "somewhat more" than the $40,800,000,000 they now are scheduled to spend during the current fiscal year.

Blames Inflation

The announcement was made late yesterday by acting Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles. At a news conference he blamed inflation and the necessity of pushing ahead with high priority missile projects for the rising budgets.

At the present level of expenditures a federal deficit of $12,200,000,000 is expected this fiscal year. The 1959 is expected this fiscal year. The 1959 business upturn, which is resulting in increased tax receipts, could reduce this deficit despite rising government costs.

No Manpower Slash

Quarles also revealed that, because of the Middle East and Far East crises, the military services have found it impossible to make any of the manpower reductions which were contemplated in President Eisenhower's budget submitted to the last congress.

The services were scheduled to operate from a total of 2,600,000 men and June 30 to 2,525,000 on June 30, 1959. Instead, as of Sept. 1, they had increased slightly, to a total of 2,540,000 men in uniform.

Spending Soars

The spending figure for the current year is already more than a half billion dollars above the amount scheduled in the President's budget.

In the current year, the air force is to spend just over 19 billion dollars, while the navy and marine corps get $11,500,000,000 and the army's funds—total—slightly—more than 9 billion dollars. Another $1,250,000,000 is being spent by the defense department on joint activities.

Burley Youth Dance Slated

BURLEY, Oct. 10 — A "platter party" dance designed especially for young people of the LDS church will be held at 9 p. m. Saturday in the Burley stakehouse.

Dress for the dance will be blue jeans, and bobby sox. There will be fun dances, tag dances and popular dances during the evening. Decorations will consist of big cardboard records and a stuffed orchestra on the stage.

This dance is being held in an effort to have more than one stake dance a month, as well as to provide teen-agers with something to do on Saturday nights.

The dance is under the direction of the stake young mens' and young ladies' activity counselors, Cloyd Taylor and Maxine Garner.

"Secrecy" Laws Related at Meet

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (UPI)—For every law congress passed last session to increase the flow of government information "two more were uncovered as claims of authority to withhold information," Rep. John E. Moss said last night.

The California Democrat, chairman of the house government information subcommittee, told a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, a journalism fraternity, that "stamp-happy bureaucrats" still are trying to stifle "the people's right to know."

However, Moss said, "there were probably more developments during the two years of the 85th congress insuring the people's right to know than during any comparable period in recent history."

Crane Loses Bid In Daughter Suit

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (UPI)—Restaurateur Stephen Crane, former husband of Lana Turner, has lost the first round but plans a new legal move against a court decision making his daughter, Cheryl, 14, a ward of the court.

The district court of appeals yesterday rejected Crane's appeal of the juvenile court order. Crane said he would file a new suit in his daughter's behalf.

Dodge Features Swivel Seats, Jet-Age Styling

DETROIT—Driver comfort, convenience and control features—including swing-out, swivel seats—highlight the 1959 Dodge, while jet-age refinements of the dart look create a new and distinctive exterior design.

The swivel-type front seats, an instrument panel concentrated more closely around a new "easier-to-get-by" steering wheel, plus pushbutton control of virtually all driver operations, head the list of 1959 advancements inside the new cars.

New styling treatment of both front and rear, side and roof, and sharply defined, canted rear fins introduce a dramatically new concept of styling.

A striking exterior design is keynoted by arched headlight "eyebrows" which curve inward and downward to the front grille. New taillights—patterned after jet-tubes—and new rear-end "control surfaces" on the fins provide a fleet, futuristic image.

New models go on display in Twin Falls today in the Bob Reese Motor Company's showrooms located in the 500 block, second avenue south.

Improved Suspension

Ride-ability and roadability of the 1959 Dodge have been improved through advances in the Torsion-Aire suspension system, coupled with optional rear-end "Level-Flite" suspension.

Additional new, designed-for-the-driver features of the Dodge include: (1) push-button controls for the heater and air-conditioner, (2) a safety speedometer which changes color as speed increases, (3) an electronic rear-view mirror that automatically cuts glare from overtaking car headlights, (4) an outside rear-view mirror that can be controlled from inside, (5) an automatic headlight dimmer, and (6) a higher steering wheel that is slightly flattened at the top, affording better road vision and at the same time, making it easier for the driver to get in and out of the car.

Colors and color-combinations available on the new vehicles will feature more light hues, following both style and safety trends. Recent studies have shown that lighter tints act as safety features.

Four new engines are offered on the various Dodge models—the less expensive Coronet series; the moderately priced Royal series, and the luxurious Custom Royals.

The Coronets will use either 230-cubic inch L-head six cylinder power plants or 326-cubic inch V-8 engines. Royal and Custom Royal series use a 361-cubic inch V-8. The top-power "D-500" engines are 383-cubic inch power units with either one or two 4-barrel carburetors optional on any series.

Horsepowers range from 135HP on the 230-cubic inch engine to 305HP on the 361-cubic inch power plant. The regular D-500 has a 320-HP rating while the Super D-500 develops 345HP.

Swing-Out Seats Halted

The new swing-out, swivel seats were termed a major new development in car passenger accommodations, by Bob Reese.

"The swivel front seats provide ability from the side as well as the easy accessibility for all passengers rear for increased safety. in our newer, lower automobiles," Reese said. "Not only do they provide easy entrance and exit for front-seat passengers — especially the ladies who often wear straight skirts—but they also aid passengers entering or getting out of back seats of two-door models."

The two swivel seats swing out a full 40 degrees on rollers. They return to place and automatically lock into the forward position. The two swivel seats are separated by a stationary center section with a folding arm rest. In normal position, a regular three-passenger seat is created.

Back rests for both seats can be pushed forward simultaneously, permitting rear-seat passengers to exit from both doors at the same time.

Taillights Visible From Side

Two nacelle-styled chrome mountings on the grille house the parking lights. Twin taillights below each rear fin simulate the jet-tube design while chrome moldings are cut on the bias to permit visibility from the side as well as the

The tips of the front bumper curve upward and wrap around the fender, giving an additional appearance of sleekness and forward motion.

Four-door hardtop models have a new roof silhouette—featuring a slightly raised rear roof section for increased rear-passenger headroom. Combined with the new roof is an advanced rear-window containing approximately 15 per cent greater glass area for added rear visibility.

New Driver Aids Introduced

"The 1959 Dodge models have important features to put the driver more than ever in the driver's seat and cater to his comfort and control of the automobile," Reese said.

The instrument panel is clustered closely around the steering column, so that the car can be operated without a change in the position of the driver and without his eyes being away from the road.

The push-button transmission is located at the driver's left—away from accidental contact by other front seat passengers. Speed-changes can be judged without looking directly at the speedometer, via "peripheral vision color awareness" as speed is accelerated. Speed-indicators go green to 30 mph, yellow from 30 to 50 mph and red above 50 mph.

Heater, cigarette lighter, headlights and windshield wiper push-buttons are close to the driver and easy to operate.

The road-proven "Torsion-Aire" suspension system has been improved. The twisting torsion bar has been shortened and thickened for better "spring" action. New cams permit easier front end adjustment. Available as optional equipment is the new suspension, Level-Flite, on the rear axle for vehicles carrying heavy weight loads. It keeps the car on an even level despite varying load conditions.

Low pressure tires are offered by Dodge in 1959 for a softer, more comfortable ride. The tires are under 16 to 18 pounds per square inch of pressure as compared with 30 to 32 pounds of air in regular tires.—adv.

COURT TRENDS VITAL

No court in this land, not even the supreme court, ought to be above criticism. Courts make mistakes, and often they later rectify them.

That criticism, to be most useful, should go to the judicial standards and the reasoning employed by the courts in arriving at specific decisions.

What results will flow from such criticism cannot in any particular instance be foreseen. The courts sometimes take many years to acknowledge and overturn an error.

Yet the courts' demonstration of human frailty ought not, in the view of many students of the American system of government, to serve as justification for undermining the courts' normal functions.

We do not seriously propose that congress be hamstrung or the President be handicapped in his powers because these other branches of government commit inevitable error.

We have to remember that it is not enough to have governmental legislatures pass laws and the executive branch carry them out. They have to be interpreted.

Written laws fall into many categories. Some are so simply drafted that the executive branch has to put all the meat on the bones. Some deliberately set broad guide lines, leaving to the administrators the discretionary power to develop specific patterns of action. Some bog down in staggering complexity as they attempt, vainly, to cover every conceivable specific situation.

The constitutions of the federal and state governments give to their respective court systems the difficult task of determining whether a particular course of action is within the meaning of the law in question. To do that, naturally, they have to decide what that meaning is.

That necessitates trying to determine "legislative intent"—what the lawmakers really had in mind when they wrote the law. If the courts do their work well, they will follow that intent. Any attempt to "rewrite the law" goes beyond court function and can only end, fairly, in a later reversal.

The state and federal constitutions also give to the courts the even more hazardous assignment of determining how specific statutes square with the constitutions themselves. For, obviously, all authority stems from those basic documents. Laws and actions which run counter to that basic underpinning must be cast out or blocked.

If this were not the case, there would not be any final check upon the lawmakers or the executive. Each, of course, would inevitably battle the other at some stages. But in those cases where they banded together, they could dictate the course of government and of the national life without regard to any more fundamental check.

Neither was regarded by the Founding Fathers as the proper interpreter either of their own actions or each other's. That is why the onerous duty fell upon the courts. If not the courts, then who can perform this vital labor?

In recent months, legal experts and interested observers have been pointing out a curious thing about the U. S. supreme court as reconstituted by Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

In their opinion, the high tribunal is far more liberal—some say "far more radical"—than the President, the congress and the American people generally.

It is an odd shift of politics and philosophy, for the supreme court was originally designed to serve as a conservative check on the two other branches of the government and the state legislatures.

As appointive jurists with a life term, they were supposed to provide a sobering balance against elected politicians who might be compelled to respond to passing the whims and popular winds.

Congress is mindful of this situation and consequently will try to take cognizance of the trend in enacting legislation in the future. The lawmakers will try, in debate and in phrasing statutes, to make their intent undeniably clear and definite.

It appears to be their only means of checking the court's tendency, as many think, to "make" instead of interpret the laws, both federal and state.

A LA DOGCARTE

A 13-year-old Vietnamese youngster named Nguyen van Thong, completely flabbergasted waiters in the staid, plush Mayflower hotel in Washington the other day when he asked for a hot dog.

He had just arrived in the U. S. to help promote a welfare campaign for foreign orphans, and wanted something typically American.

Waiters ransacked every kitchen in the hotel without finding a single wiener or hot dog bun. In fact, they couldn't even find any hamburger.

Finally, they talked Thong into eating a two-dollar steak sandwich. The hotel picked up the tab.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Despite questioning of numerous decisions by the White House, congress and the conference of state Chief Justices, the recently reconvened supreme court will disregard criticism of its strong federalization philosophy in cases before it at the current term.

Ray Tucker

Chief Justice Earl Warren is the dominant figure on the high tribunal. In addition to the fact that associate justices hesitate to disagree with the "C.J.," as they refer to him, the Californian has built a solid liberal majority behind him.

Despite Warren's amiability, he has indicated that he is ruffled by his eminent critics. In polling the court before delivery of the ruling outlawing the South's "massive resistance" strategies against school desegregation, he felt it necessary to display a solid front to his detractors.

WARREN LECTURES DETRACTORS—In citing the Dred Scott and Madison vs. Marbury decisions on the supremacy of supreme court findings, Warren delivered an implied and angry lecture to his legal, judicial and political detractors, from Judge Learned Hand of New York to Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

He did, however, respond to demands that the court spell out what it intended when it said that its school desegregation decree must be implemented with "all deliberate speed."

Besides the prestige which the CJ always enjoys, the members like Warren personally, for he is admittedly a genial and attractive figure. In his day-to-day administration, he is not such a stern taskmaster as were Chief Justices Hughes, Stone and Vinson.

This is always a nonjudicial but important factor in such a closely knit body. Associate Justices frequently went along with Hughes and Stone out of respect. They agree with Warren out of a personal liking.

"LIBERAL" JUDGES BACK HIM—In any division on knotty questions, he can usually count on the votes of Justices Black, Douglas, Harlan and Brennan. Interestingly enough, two of the five "liberals" were named by PDR, and three by President Eisenhower.

Although Justice Frankfurter is regarded as an economic conservative, he will usually line up with the Warren bloc on cases involving personal rights and liberties. The memories from his experiences during his defense of Sacco and Vanzetti still remain.

Whether the court becomes more liberal or more conservative will depend on the kind of jurist President Eisenhower names as a successor to Justice Burton.

It is always hazardous to forecast supreme court decisions. But in the important matters before them at the current term—school desegregation barriers, security checks on workers in private defense plants, congressional contempt controversies, federal control of offshore oil, antitrust prosecutions—they will generally find in favor of the federal authority.

TREND TOWARD GREATER FEDERAL POWER—Despite the state chief justices' warning against "making" law instead of interpreting legislation against the background of the Constitution and congressional intent, the court will undoubtedly continue to strike down state laws designed to prevent federal encroachment.

In analyzing the tribunal's trend under Chief Justice Warren's direction, lawyers conclude that it seeks to strengthen the federal power in the face of the growth of big business and big unionism.

It will not be the first time, as Chief Justice Hughes did when he reversed the original disapproval of many new deal social and economic reforms, that the supreme court has based its decisions on changing conditions, new stresses and different values rather than on strictly legal considerations.

PDR criticized a hostile court on the ground that it was thinking and living in a "horse and buggy era." Earl Warren and his colleagues recognize that we are living in a "jet age" of spatial law.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

BETTER WAY TO MAKE PAPER?

A new method of making paper has been discovered in Austria that reportedly will save badly-needed timber in that country. It may also have application in our region because it is a much "cleaner" process.

Called the Alb-Semicell process, it is already in production in lower Austria. The cellulose produced by the process is said to be fully equal to the sulphite cellulose used in other mills. The paper produced by the new process is said to be of better quality than that made from ordinary cellulose.

The new process utilizes a greater proportion of the timber, meaning that paper can be produced at less cost. More cellulose is produced, from a given quantity of wood allowing more paper to be produced from the same quantity of timber or fewer trees to supply needs at the present level.

This is especially important in Austria where clean-cut hillsides have led to flooding and soil erosion.

A further advantage of the system is that it does away with the great quantities of waste water that are a by-product of older processes. Where the new system is used, the Austrians report, there is no pollution of neighboring streams and rivers.

In the Pacific Northwest the discharge of sulphite liquors has been pinpointed as a pollution agent. Companies, notably local companies, have spent large sums of money to reduce the effects of these liquors on river purity and fish life.

It is not practical immediately to abandon an older type method of paper making and embrace a newer process, but the success of the Austrians points to future refinements in the industry and eventual benefits to stream users as well as the paper makers.—Longview Daily News.

NO FISH WORRIES THEN

Some of those making the loudest outcries about destruction of salmon at Oxbow and Brownlee damsites in the Snake river are the identical persons who fought so long for a high Hells Canyon dam in place of these lower structures.

Not one of the bills in congress to provide federal construction of a high dam in Hells canyon contained specific language for fish passage—either for adults migrating upstream or fingerlings swimming downstream to the sea.

Brownlee, the highest in Idaho Power company's three-dam plan, rises almost 400 feet and is not laddered. Fish traps are relied upon to project the adult salmon into tank trucks for transport around the barrier. A "fish skimmer" device above Brownlee has yet to be tested in the hope of gathering and transporting small fish around the dams. At least, under the loose direction of the federal power commission, Idaho Power is trying to save as many fish as possible.

A high Hells canyon dam would have risen 700 feet, and a high Nez Perce dam—below the mouth of the Salmon river—would reach 800 feet up the canyon walls. The fish passage problems would be even greater. But the point is that the high Hells canyon advocates didn't even consider fish passage. And among these was Governor Holmes, who bitterly attacked Idaho Power company when its fish trap at Oxbow was washed out.—Portland Oregonian.

VANISHING RAILROAD PASSENGER SERVICE

Howard Hosmer, an interstate commerce commission examiner, has some gloomy views regarding the future of railroad passenger service and some railroad men agree with him. Hosmer said intercity rail passenger service will disappear within the next 12 years unless there is a reversal in trends.

He bases his forecast on a study of declining railroad patronage in the last 10 years and an ICC survey on the pyramiding multi-million-dollar losses which railroad bookkeeping attributes to passenger service.

The railroads are the only major public transportation service that pays taxes without any form of subsidy. And the railroads are being priced right out of the public transportation market.

Railroads perhaps more than most industries, have seen their operational costs soar higher and higher, along with their taxes, while revenue has gone the opposite way.

But there are still people who like to ride trains—if they can afford it. General passenger train fares have jumped 50 per cent since World war II.—Los Angeles Times.

POTSO:

Not so long ago someone wrote you a little letter to moan about her luck when it came to buying things just the day before the item was put on sale. I can understand how that might vex a person slightly, but I defy anyone to explain my experience along that general line.

I needed an item a few days ago and looked in several stores, thinking I might be able to find a place where I could save a few pennies. Finally, I bought the item.

Well, that very night the store had an ad in the T-N to advertise a sale starting the next day. Sure enough, there was the item, but it was priced at 27 cents more than I had paid for it WITHOUT a sale! Some real bargains, we get, huh?

Guess the life of a garbage collector is no bed of roses, and I have a good deal of sympathy for them, but sometimes they irritate me, too.

I seem to recall when this paid garbage collecting service was started that it was set up on a schedule, with the garbage men scheduled to call at our house on a certain day of each and every week, with the possible exception of those weeks in which there was a holiday. And I seem to recall it worked fairly well.

But recently it seems the garbage collectors are either getting ahead of themselves or falling behind. I can't tell which. Can't they get back to their regular schedule of picking up our garbage on Friday? When they call on Thursday, we haven't put some of the stuff out yet and then we have to keep it around another week.

ASK THE TEACHER

Pot Shots:

Maybe I'm just a non-conformist at heart, but some of the rules and regulations regarding school supplies seem to be just a little on the silly side.

For instance, what difference does it make what sort of scratch-pad a youngster uses so long as it provides paper? We had obtained a pad for our child and it seemed quite satisfactory. But she brought it home about the second day of school and informed us she had to have a certain type of rather expensive pad.

What I'd like to know is what difference it makes?

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

LOS ANGELES—The scandalous spectacle of the chief justice of the United States collecting a pension of $10,000 a year on top of his big salary will serve a decent purpose if it brings into public knowledge some dormant facts about the political pension system. The politicians have really latched on.

Pegler

Actually this is a whole tangle of systems, all vaguely alike but few of them identical. They vary in impudence and rapacity according to the presence of many factors.

In California, the gall of the politicians was equal to the apathetic stupidity of an electorate composed largely of "war effort" immigrants from other states. The bulk of them were attracted by fantastic wages that the unions extorted from the Roosevelt regime. In the post-war slump they became a "welfare" population and by their example degraded many other Americans in California who were by nature superior.

The political machines, one of which belonged to Warren, almost in the sense that a man can own property, thus were able to put over pension rackets for politicians of which Warren's own pension, though flagrant, is not the worst.

A popular superstition is firmly established now that politicians deserve pensions equal to or greater than the pensions which tax-producing citizens are demanding more and more insistently from private industry. The paltry dole provided by "social security" is despised, except by a class of broken old toilers who come to the end of their employability with little or no savings and puny earning power.

Warren's pension is not in the brackets which the majority of workers regard as an old-age allowance. It is a lavish income. Very few earners and taxpayers of California or any other state ever achieve an income equal to two-thirds of Warren's pension.

Business firms of all kinds must maintain standards of efficiency for employes. Employes must meet these standards. It is not an offense against general truth to say that in all his 30 years at the trough, Warren never had to meet a standard of efficiency and production. He never was "hired." He was "elected" or "selected" by a political process that has no qualifications except popularity and "reputation," which latter most often is false.

One has only to conjure the absurd spectacle of candidates for governor sitting in a room and taking an examination for the job to understand what a farce the qualifications for the office are. An idiot could qualify legally. Yet, any governor who gets elected is automatically consecrated "chief executive," though he be a disgusting bum and, in California, qualifies for a pension of $16,000 a year for life. The political histories of all the states reveal many squalid characters.

In California, the political machines sneered in the teeth of the faceless man, and the faceless man likes it, because in the long run he has to like it. The salary of the governor was raised from $25,000, the pay which Warren drew, to $40,000. Private industry pays only as much as need be. It must economize and wasteful executives may be fired. It must pay taxes and arrange its prices and its efficiency so as to show profits above taxes and other costs.

Government pays no taxes and when costs exceed expectations, nobody gets fired except by a change in the tide of the vote on election day. But the men who have thus failed in one election are not disgraced. Harry Truman is out again, giving 'em hell for "extravagance."

Government officials and employes never should be paid on a basis equal to that of private enterprise. They are, in general, an inferior lot and, in addition, they have a system of job security that protects them from most of the risk that constantly spurs private enterprise to greater efforts and whets the worker's responsibility.

In all his years, Warren never stood in risk of dismissal except by defeat in an election. His "examination" for his present job was a fraud and one citizen who tried to object was pinched on a false warrant. Certainly, a chief justice should have the dignity and honor to realize that a windfall of more than $4,000 a year above Warren's lavish pension as provided by the law when he sought and accepted the job of governor, is not morally his right and due. He agreed to a pension of $11,445 on his maximum California pay of $25,000. Thereafter, the legislature hopped it to $12,100 for him and all other ex-governors although he was then drawing $35,500 as chief justice. And on Jan. 1, it goes to $16,000.

Not only did these raises abrogate his solemn agreement with the state, but the nasty notion that either of them was necessary to meet a raise in the cost of living of a man drawing $35,500 bears on Warren's character, honor and citizenship.

High Average For Herds Is Noted in Test

JEROME, Oct. 10 — Of the 50 herds on test in the Gooding-Lincoln-Jerome Dairy Herd Improvement association testing unit number two, 31 herds averaged more than 30 pounds of butterfat for September, according to the report of Ben Russell, tester.

The top 10 herds are those of: Ralph Martin, Hunt, 13 registered Holsteins, averaged 1,308 pounds of milk and 52.1 pounds of butterfat; Reed Taylor and Sons, Wendell, 32 registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 1,304 pounds of milk and 45.4 pounds of butterfat; Archie Malone, Jerome, 19 registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 1,222 pounds of milk and 40.4 pounds of butterfat; Michael DeGraff, Jerome, five mixed breeds, averaged 1,068 pounds of milk and 39.9 pounds of butterfat.

Joseph Sprenger, Wendell, with 17 grade Holsteins, averaged 1,041 pounds of milk and 37.6 pounds of butterfat; Laurel Ploss, Jerome, with 18 grade Guernseys, averaged 778 pounds of milk and 37.4 pounds of butterfat. William Diehl, Jerome, with 11 grade Holsteins, averaged 984 pounds of milk and 36.5 pounds of butterfat. Lyle F. Anderson, Jerome, with 20 registered Holsteins, averaged 1,059 pounds of milk and 36.4 pounds of butterfat.

Dr. P. J. Supple, Jerome, with 24 registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 1,065 pounds of milk and 36.2 pounds of butterfat, and Harvey Davis, Jerome, with 36 grade Holsteins, averaged 968 pounds of milk and 35.8 pounds of butterfat.

Russell reported 41 cows in his unit produced more than 60 pounds of butterfat during September.

Pat, registered Holstein owned by Ralph Martin, Hunt, produced 2,330 pounds of milk and 95.5 pounds of butterfat. Patty, registered Holstein owned by Reed Taylor and Sons, Wendell, produced 2,150 pounds of milk and 90.3 pounds of butterfat. Lady Favorite, registered Holstein owned by Ralph Martin, Hunt, produced 1,980 pounds of milk and 89.1 pounds of butterfat.

Darlene, registered Guernsey owned by Virgil Norwood, Hagerman, produced 1,730 pounds milk and 83.0 pounds of butterfat. Mabel, registered Guernsey owned by Jack Edwards, Dietrich, produced 1,830 pounds of milk and 82.4 pounds of butterfat. Perfection, registered Holstein owned by Ralph Martin, Hunt, produced 1,820 pounds of milk and 81.9 pounds of butterfat.

Jill, grade Holstein owned by Joe Sprenger, Wendell, produced 2,100 pounds of milk and 79.8 pounds of butterfat. Betsy, registered Holstein owned by Reed Taylor and Sons, Wendell, produced 2,100 pounds of milk and 79.8 pounds of butterfat. Blackie, registered Holstein owned by Ralph Martin, Hunt, produced 2,180 pounds of milk and 76.3 pounds of butterfat, and Spot, grade Holstein owned by Bill Diehl, Jerome, produced 1,580 pounds of milk and 74.3 pounds of butterfat.

Rolfe Chosen As Leader of PTA at Buhl

BUHL, Oct. 10—Boyd Rolfe was elected president of the Buhl PTA during the regular meeting Monday night at the P. H. Buhl school.

Panel and group discussion were held on the proposed legislation platform of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers. Ken Barrett, legislative chairman for the Buhl PTA, introduced the program. The panel was composed of John Hepworth, John Barker, Mrs. La-Vern Strong, Robert Perce and Alvin Borders with Robert Bailey as moderator.

The group voted in favor of amending the constitution to make the office of state superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective. Separate boards were urged for university, colleges and public schools in Idaho instead of one group. The majority opposed amending the child labor and adoption laws. The group also voted against reducing to 60 per cent majority instead of two-thirds majority for passing a school bond.

The most controversial issue, "driver training," was discussed at great length and the group felt that this training should be offered, but outside of school because of the present accelerated education plan.

The group voted in favor of some sort of broad base tax to furnish necessary funds for increased educational costs. The group felt that money is needed for education primarily because of increase in student enrollments.

Purpose of the panel and group discussions was to inform delegates to the Idaho PTA convention how to vote on the proposed legislation plan.

Membership dues were received following the meeting by Mrs. Frank Giese, Mrs. Jo Griffin, Mrs. Dorris Wells and Mrs. Al Iverson. Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson received subscriptions to the National Parent-Teacher magazine.

Refreshments were served by sixth grade room mothers, Mrs. J. R. Tullis, Mrs. Robert Erb, Mrs. William Baxter, Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. M. F. Smith.

Memorial for Dead Held at Pioneer Meet

HAGERMAN, Oct. 10—Memorial services were held for eight deceased members at the annual picnic of the Hagerman and Southern Idaho Pioneer association at the Legion hall.

Mrs. Arthur Dennis was in charge of the memorial services at a table covered with a white cloth and white candles. An empty vase was used to receive a flower as each name was read by Mrs. Dennis.

Mrs. William Hendrickson placed the flowers for Glenn Bell, Debora Ann Eberman, Addie Finch, Jess Schoolcraft, Lester Schooler, Fred Glauner, Jo Abbott and Susie Padgett Callaway, all pioneers who died during the past year.

Mrs. Dennis read a poem and Earle Justice played.

The short business meeting was conducted by Rex Barlogi, president. All officers were reelected for another year. Besides Barlogi they are Arthur Justice, vice president; Mrs. William Ullican, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Henry Radermacher, courtesy chairman.

During the afternoon old time music was played by Henry Radermacher and Den Durfee, both Hagerman; Ben Lester and Cliff Riggs, Twin Falls; Alvin McConnell, Tuttle; Ed Burnette, Nampa; Elmer Cook, Hagerman, and Dave Durfee, Carey.

Local people who arranged the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. William Hendrickson, tables; Mrs. Radermacher, coffee; Mrs. Den Durfee and Mrs. Millie Barton, cake; Mrs. Glenn Bell, potatoes; Mrs. Tom Fausett, decoration with fall flowers; Mrs. Emerson Boyer and Mrs. Raymond Lewers, Tuttle, ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Condit, Den Durfee, Mrs. Emma McIntosh and Mrs. Bert Potter, Bliss, were the welcoming committee with Mrs. J. D. Ellis and Mrs. J. W. Jones in charge of collecting dues and pinning on name ribbons.

Eighty oldtimers signed the register. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Silva, Pendleton, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Bally Dickson, Rupert; Mrs. Bill Hurst and daughter, Nampa; Mr. and Mrs. James Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills, Emmett.

BPW Week Is Being Marked By Area Club

JEROME, Oct. 10—The local observance of Business and Professional Women's week began Tuesday night with a dinner at the Gingham Inn with the speaker, Louise Shadduck, Boise, director of the state department of commerce and development.

Miss Shadduck spoke on the "Future of Women." She stated that one of the reasons for the rapid advancement of women in the business world is quality of service they give the employer and their job. The length of life isn't as important as the quality you put into living, she said. In the past six years President Eisenhower has appointed women to 153 important positions and also to 42 high-grade or cabinet positions, she reported.

There are now 533,802 women or 24.19 per cent of the federal employes. She closed with the advice to all women, "Don't lose the quality which makes a woman more than a woman, a lady."

Mrs. Hinkle Cox, president, introduced Judge Theron W. Ward and School Supt. Walter O. Olds. Judge Ward spoke on the "Value of Women in Business," mentioning they were invaluable to business because of their ability to stick to a schedule.

Olds spoke on the "Value of Women in Education," showing the percentages of women, 72½ per cent with 28 per cent of these in the elementary grades. Of these the average teacher is 45 years old, has taught 15 years, married with one child, earns nearly $4,000 a year and has a bachelors degree.

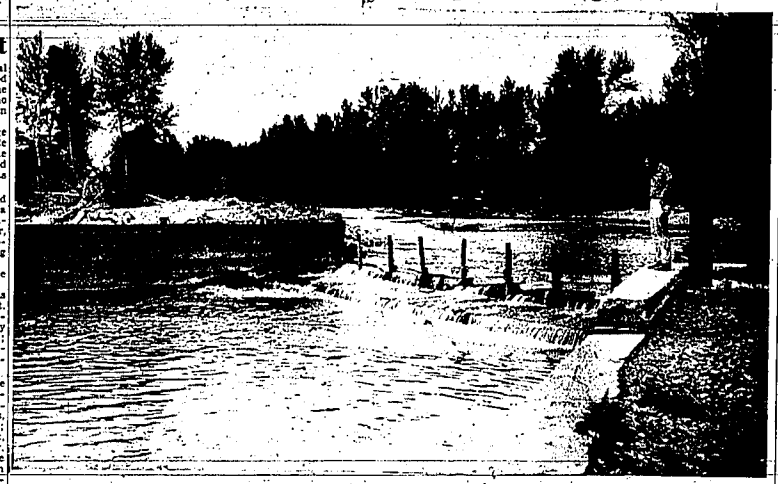

Mrs. Donald Jacobson sang "Thine Alone" and "Lindie-Lou," accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Dellinger.

Mrs. Agnes Hurst, chairman of the week's events, was assisted by Mrs. Aileen Roberts, Mrs. Louise Stone and Mrs. Russell Hamm.

GET PRACTICE

WENDELL, Oct. 10-Dr. Richard Stapp, Dr. Catherine Stapp and Dr. John Brandt, Gooding veterinarians, have taken over the practice of Dr. John B. Harms. Stapp and Brandt opened an office on West Main this week. Dr. Harms has accepted employment with the federal government.

New Diversion Dam Started to Replace Damaged Structure

Construction of a new $17,000 diversion dam began in Big Wood river Thursday to replace this structure which was damaged beyond repair in the heavy runoff of 1956. This temporary diversion structure was used by the Wood River Valley Irrigation district on the concrete abutment and apron left when the old diversion dam was destroyed. Construction Work Starts in Big Wood River Near Bellevue on New Diversion

HAILEY, Oct. 10—Construction work began Thursday on a new diversion dam on Big Wood river near the southeast city limits of Bellevue to replace a dam which was damaged beyond repair in the heavy spring runoff of 1956.

Bids for the dam from Big Wood river into the district canal were opened by directors Tuesday evening. The $17,400 contract was awarded the Uhrig Construction company, Hailey. William Uhrig, president of the company, has sublet the cement work to Rodney Peake, Bellevue.

The new structure will be 144 feet wide, with an eight-foot apron. Footings will be six feet deep and the structure will rise six and one-half feet above the river bottom.

The concrete dam will be a demountable flashboard type and will have 17 stanchions—each eight feet apart. It is designed to accommodate 4,500 second-feet of water. The largest canal in the upper Big Wood river area, it serves 22 ranches consisting of 9,000 acres, lying south of Bellevue and in the Gannett area.

The old diversion dam had an opening of approximately 30 feet. The new structure will have a backfill of about 800 yards and embankment construction of approximately 3,000 yards.

Both technical and financial assistance will be given by the soil conservation service and the agricultural conservation program.

The plans were drawn for the most part by Thomas Curtis, Twin Falls, SCS engineering specialist, and approved by Ellis Hitt, head of the engineering and watershed unit, Portland, Ore., and Meader Wilkins, Boise, state conservation engineer for Idaho. Work will be carried out and inspected by Robert Diehl, engineering technician at the Hailey SCS office.

C. W. Gardner, Walter Stewart, George Brunecel and Ward Peterson are directors for the water district.

No Politics

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, smiling and in no mood for politics, arrived here last night. He is attending the 128th semi-annual general conference of the LDS church.

Benson is a member of the church's ruling body, the Council of Twelve Apostles.

He talked yesterday to 7,000 farmers at Nebraska's corn picking contest. How did those farmers feel?

"Good. Prices are good. This crop year is one of the best in decades over the nation."

How are the Republican chances in the November election?

"I'm here for a conference," Benson laughed. "No political talks this time."

Jerome Rotarian Talks About Dam

JEROME, Oct. 10—Vern Thorpe, Jerome Rotarian, addressed the Rotary club Tuesday on the Glen Canyon dam. Thorpe noted the 900 million dollar project on the upper Colorado river will back water 126 miles, furnish 900,000 kilowatts of power, irrigate a vast new area of land, supplement irrigation projects on the lower Colorado and will be completed in 1964. Excavated will be 4,500,000 cubic yards of earth and rock, and 5,500,000 cubic yards of concrete will be used in the dam in addition to many thousand tons of re-enforcing steel.

Thorpe's talk was accompanied by colored movies of the dam site.

Visiting Rotarians were Sidney Smith, Shoshone; Leon Weeks, Boise; Olean Seamons, and Cliff Kreiger, Twin Falls. Other guests were William H. Detweiler, Hazelton, and Gordon Rama, Minnesota.

Attend Funeral

WENDELL, Oct. 10—Here to attend funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Mason Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason and son, Hamilton, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. Truman Mason and family, Crow Agency, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sumnerlin, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Nubern Mason, jr., and son, Boise; Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Deck and son, Mrs. Alice Simerly and daughters, all Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Gehrig, Mrs. Frank Mason, and Mrs. Mary Peck, all Shoshone.

The immediate family left Wednesday for Hamilton, Mont., and plans to return the last of the week.

Coffee Hour Held

Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's club held a coffee hour Thursday afternoon at the Twin Falls Business college for female students to acquaint them with the BPW organization, formed in 1921 for the benefit of the working woman.

Some 60 persons attended the session, arranged by Mrs. Marian Leighton, Mrs. Frankie Alworth and Mrs. Norman Herrett.

RELATIVES VISIT

HAILEY, Oct. 10—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart, Garden Grove, Calif., are visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Williams. They are the Rev. Mr. Williams' parents and grandparents.

New Chief of Unit Presides

HOLLISTER, Oct. 10—The new Hollister Grange master, David Chadwick, conducted the Wednesday meeting.

An Idaho products potluck supper with a 4-H club recognition program is scheduled for 7 p.m., Oct. 22 at the Grange hall. All 4-H club members, sponsors and parents are invited. Grange members are urged to bring a guest to the supper. The program will be presented by 4-H members.

A work party is slated for Monday afternoon for more work on the Hollister Community church grounds.

Grange members voted to change the meeting time from 8:30 to 8 p.m. for the winter months.

Roll call was answered to the question, "Should teachers discipline children?" Mrs. Richard Lutes read a poem, "Education." An article on hunting safety rules was given by Dale Kunkel. A hula hoop contest was won by Dale Kunkel, Mrs. Glenn Nelson and Gregory Lanting.

The closing thought was given by David Chadwick. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. David Chadwick and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mills.

Opinion Samples Okay Sales Levy

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Associated Taxpayers of Idaho said yesterday that a questionnaire it sent to all members showed that 80 per cent favored a sales tax if it were coupled with relief for income and property tax payers.

The association said 42 per cent of the questionnaires were answered, which it described as "an excellent return."

And although 75 per cent of those replying said they felt state expenditures should be held at their present level, 60 per cent said they expected the 1959 legislature to increase appropriations compared with those made in 1957.

War Declared By Agency on Ad 'Trickery'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The government declared war yesterday on trickery and falsification in price advertising.

The federal trade commission issued a set of rules for its staff fixing the borderline between legal advertising and illegal fiction. It served notice that intensified enforcement has been ordered.

In what was perhaps the key directive, the commission told its investigators to judge the impact of advertisements in their entirety since some price claims "may be entirely misleading although every sentence separately might be literally true."

The agency has been increasingly active in filing complaints against firms which preticket goods with inflated price tags, then advertise deep cuts in prices. But Commission Chairman John W. Gwynne's announcement said: "While our staff already has been hitting hard at those who lie about their bargain prices, we believe the problem is growing worse."

The commission will work with Better Business bureaus, the Advertising Federation of America, and civic organizations to alert the public to the tricks by which unscrupulous merchants pass off regularly priced merchandise as bargains, Gwynne said. It hopes for voluntary cooperation by sellers, he added.

The crackdown will apply to radio and television commercials as well as to advertising in newspapers, magazines, handbills, direct mail, placards, and billboards.

Divorce Decrees Granted in T. F.

Two divorce decrees were filed Thursday with the clerk of Twin Falls district court.

LeRoy Roberts was granted a divorce from Mrs. Vella Roberts. He charged her with cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married June 11, 1951, at Buhl.

Roberts was awarded custody of their four minor children and a 1950 DeSoto automobile. He was represented by Lloyd J. Webb, an attorney with Rayborn and Rayborn law firm.

Mrs. Elizabeth Newberry was divorced from Edward Newberry. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment in her complaint. They were married Aug. 23, 1951, at Buhl. She was awarded custody of three minor children. The court approved a previous property settlement and ordered Newberry to pay $100 monthly child support. She, too, was represented by Webb.

F. F. Underwood Funeral Is Held

Funeral services for Francis F. Underwood were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Reynolds funeral home chapel with Bishop Floyd Olson of the Kimberly LDS church officiating.

The invocation was given by Elder Lewis D. Robbins. Elder Roy Wood gave the obituary and benediction and also dedicated the grave. George Bennett sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Stanger.

Pallbearers were Ernest Bradley, Silas Givens, Robert Givens, Eddie Requa, LaMar Hanes and Ray Potter.

Graveside military rites were under the direction of Kimberly American Legion post 76.

Record Meet for Burley Expected

BURLEY, Oct. 10—About 500 delegates are expected to attend the Idaho Home Demonstration council meeting here in 1959, Mrs. Marjorie Gillespie, Cassia county home demonstration agent, reported Thursday after her return from the 1958 meeting in McCall.

Mrs. Gillespie said this would be about double this year's attendance. There are many Magic Valley women's home improvement groups who will send delegates to a meeting in Burley, she said, which could not send them to a site outside of the area.

Burley's invitation to the group for the 1959 event was approved over a host of invitations from other cities throughout the state, Mrs. Gillespie said.

Divorce Asked

A divorce complaint was filed Thursday in Twin Falls district court by Mrs. Marie Iona Hanby against Roy Morris Hanby charging cruel and inhuman treatment.

They were married Feb. 5, 1949, at Luguna Beach, Calif. They have three minor children. She seeks custody of the children and not less than $90 monthly child support and $10 alimony. She is represented by H. N. Jewell, Twin Falls attorney.

Problems for School Aired By Bliss PTA

BLISS, Oct. 10—"Education 1958" was the theme for "buzz" sessions of the Bliss PTA Tuesday evening.

Orville Redington, superintendent, was moderator. The group was divided into four sections. Reconvening, a chairman gave the opinion of each group.

Aldrich Bowler, moderated discussion of "What is wrong with education?"; Ronald Krohn, "Who is responsible?"; Mrs. Doran Butler, "What can we do about it?", and Mrs. Mary Lynch, "How can we improve our Bliss school?"

The points were stressed to instill more adult interest in schools, gain more parent cooperation with teachers, encourage students with scholarships, and point out too much emphasis on outside activities.

During the business meeting conducted by David Warner, the PTA prayer was given by Mrs. William Ultican. Selected as room mothers for first and second rooms were Mrs. John Tschannon, Mrs. Burrill Lirgg, Mrs. Glenn Mathews, Mrs. Dan Leach, and Mrs. Fred Henderson. Room mothers for the third and fourth grades are Mrs. Walter Kirtley, Mrs. Leland Rowlands, Mrs. David Robbins and Mrs. Gregg Belsher. Fifth and sixth grade mothers are Mrs. Lloyd Hansten, Mrs. Frank Graves and Mrs. Ronald Krohn. For the seventh and eighth they are Mrs. Frank Stevens and Mrs. Harley Hennifin.

Third and fourth grades won the prize for having the most parents present. They will be allowed to pick their own prize of a book or record.

Krohn distributed yearbooks. It was announced Mrs. Maxine Henderson would be in charge of the PTA booth at the school carnival Friday, Oct. 17.

Plans are being completed for the PTA to sponsor a library in the home economics rooms with books obtained through the state traveling library. Mrs. William Ultican and Mrs. Bowler are in charge of the project. Formal opening is planned at the next regular PTA meeting November 4.

Mrs. Belsher and Mrs. Herbert Stroud were elected delegates to the state PTA convention at Nampa Oct. 22 and 23.

As no new president has been found to replace Warren Berry who moved, members of the executive committee will take turns being in charge of the meetings.

Mrs. Walter Hobdey announced Mrs. Bowler will give a book review for the next meeting.

Refreshments were served by members of the Sew and Go 4-H club led by Mrs. Lloyd Hansten.

Cleric to Leave

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (UPI)—James Francis Cardinal McIntyre leaves for Rome tonight to join the College of Cardinals in the election of a new pope.

Plans called for his eminence, one of three Roman Catholic cardinals in the United States, to leave International airport at 11:05 p.m. (PST) on a TWA polar flight.

5 Dunked as Car Plunges Over Bridge

BURLEY, Oct. 10 — The short cut across the southern part of the Cassia county project proved to be a wet one for five students of Magic Valley Christian college, Monday.

A 1950 Ford sedan driven by Dale MacFarland, 18, Heyburn, missed a bridge and plunged into a canal five miles south and two miles west of Burley. MacFarland along with his passengers Leo King, 18, Hansen, Jean Hiatt, 18, and Jennie Ketner, 18, both Marsing, and Kyle Estes, 19, Tucson, Ariz., were thoroughly soaked when the car landed in the canal.

The top of the car was nearly covered with water, but the passengers, all unhurt, were able to climb the canal bank to safety.

Wet and cold they walked to the Lester Bowcutt farm about two miles from the scene of the mishap and called for help. Cassia county Sheriff LePage Layton investigated the accident.

Virginia Keeping Locks on Schools

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 10 (AP)—Virginia's curtain of public school closure remained firmly in place yesterday amid indications Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, jr., has no immediate plans to try to lift it.

The governor told Mayor W. Fred Duckworth of Norfolk he was not thinking about trying to buck federal desegregation orders by opening the six closed Norfolk schools under the police power of the state. The city council of Norfolk has asked him to try that.

Sub Skipper Sees Arctic Ocean Use

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The skipper of the submarine Skate said yesterday the United States should exploit the Arctic ocean as one of the world's most strategically important bodies of water.

Cmdr. James F. Calvert who took the Skate across the North Pole, told a meeting of the National Security Industrial association that there are many opportunities for underwater craft to surface through holes in the ice pack. He added: "This is a situation which this country . . . must exploit."

BANKER APPOINTED

CALDWELL, Oct. 10 (AP)—Martin C. Warberg, vice president and manager of the Caldwell office of the Bank of Idaho, said yesterday he has been informed of his appointment as American Bankers Association vice president for Idaho.

Police Check Auto Mishaps

Two accidents involving more than $200 in damages were reported Thursday to Twin Falls city police.

An accident about 5 p.m. in the 200 block of Third avenue east involved a car driven by Betty M. Storm, 19, 240 Fourth avenue north, and a parked car owned by Bertha Babcock, 561 Third avenue east.

Police reported the woman said a 2-year-old boy passenger grabbed the wheel and caused the car to veer into the parked car. Damage to the right front of the Storm car was estimated at $150. Damage to the parked vehicle was estimated at $30.

An accident earlier in the afternoon near 564 Main avenue south involved a 1948 Chevrolet carryall driven by Darrell H. Baltzer, 42, 315 Locust street south, and a 1955 Dodge driven by Ronald E. Quesnell, 14, route 1, Murtaugh. Damage to the left front fender and left side of the Chevrolet was about $30. Damage to the right side of the Dodge was slight, police reported.

Spiders Flying

PORTALES, N. M., Oct. 10 (AP)—Another gossamer shower greeted sky gazers in the portales area yesterday.

Skeins of spider webs could be seen hanging over telephone lines and glinting in the sunshine. Biologists have said the webs are a manifestation of spider flights through the wild blue yonder.

Wintery Gale Belts Midwest Areas of U. S.

By United Press International

Wintery winds of up to 45 miles an hour drove across the nation's midsection today, dropping temperatures into the 20's and 30's and scattering snow flurries.

The cold Canadian air slammed into a flow of mild winds from the gulf of Mexico, erupting into a line of severe rain and wind storms.

Two tornado funnels swirled over three southcentral Wisconsin counties yesterday and threatening funnel clouds accompanied by "extremely" high winds hovered over much of Indiana.

Earlier, twisters raked Iowa and Missouri, killing a housewife. High winds in northern Illinois caused one death when a tree toppled onto a car.

The squall line early today extended from the lower Great Lakes to the southern plains. Rainfall along the system ranged from one-fourth to three fourths of an inch with Fayetteville, Ark., receving 1.05 inches.

Gusty winds whipped the Dakotas and upper Mississippi valley. Early morning readings in the 20's were reported in the northern plains and temperatures in the 30's produced snow flurries in the Red river valley region.

Mostly clear skies, marred only by a few scattered showers in New England, prevailed in the Atlantic and southeast states as warm air drifted ahead of the cool air moving in from the West.

A warming trend began in the Northwest and showers dampened the Washington coastal section.

Forecasters predicted the cool air will advance to the Appalachians today with gusty winds expected from the Great Lakes into the Ohio valley. Scattered showers or snow flurries were to hit the northern Great Lakes.

Scattered showers were to mark the advance of the cool air with showers extending to much of the Atlantic seaboard by evening. A few scattered showers also were expected along the gulf coast, but the rest of the country was promised mostly clear skies.

Pride Valued

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 10 (AP)—Six days ago Earl Buctow, a 39-year-old unemployed laborer, married a widow with eight children.

The family was in need when Buctow's wife decided to ask the county welfare office for help. Buctow warned her Wednesday he would commit suicide if she went for help.

She returned from the welfare office to find Buctow dead of a pistol wound in the mouth. He left a note saying he was leaving all his insurance to his wife.

Unsafe Deposit

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10 (AP)—Oliver T. Guest, 32, admitted putting a sign on the night deposit chute at the bank where he worked as a porter. It said:

"Out of order. Leave deposit with porter."

The FBI said customers left $1,000 with Guest. Then he left town. He later was arrested in California. The chute wasn't out of order at all.

U. S. District Judge Ray M. Shelbourne sentenced him to two years in prison yesterday.

U. S., Russia to Exchange Films

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—An agreement on exchanging movies between the United States and the Soviet Union was signed in Moscow yesterday.

Moscow radio said American and Soviet representatives had worked out the agreements under the Soviet-U.S. cultural agreement.

The Soviets will get 10 U. S. films, including "The Great Caruso," "Roman Holiday," "Oklahoma" and "The Old Man and the Sea." Americans will see seven Soviet pictures, among them "The Cranes Are Flying" and "Swan Lake."

No Bones Broken By 147-Foot Fall

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 10 (AP)—A workman fell 147 feet yesterday from a smokestack under construction. X-rays showed no broken bones.

The workman, Joe Jackson, 27, Ravenna, O., suffered internal injuries. He was listed in satisfactory condition in a local hospital.

Jackson's fall, attributed to a snapped hoist, was broken by a wooden platform about 12 feet from the bottom of the stack.

Kablier R. Dixson, 30, of Richmond, atop the smokestack with Jackson, received a broken ankle when struck by Jackson in his plunge. Dixson did not fall.

The men were employed by a firm building an addition to a Virginia Electric and Power company plant.

Request Dismissed

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Idaho public utilities commission dismissed yesterday at his request an application from Earl L. Wise of Glenns Ferry for a truck permit. Wise had applied for authority to haul livestock, feed and fertilizer within a 150-mile radius of Glenns Ferry.

Idaho Motels Are Urged to Plug 'Values'

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 10 (UPI)—State Commerce Secretary Louise Shadduck today appealed to motel operators to plug the scenic, historic and recreational values of Idaho.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon session of the Idaho Motel association's annual convention here, she said that the successful motel operator must be a traffic director, a historian, a restaurateur, a fishing expert and a businessman.

Not Just Roadside Inn

"No longer will clean sheets on the beds and clean towels fill the needs of the traveler," she said. "In this day of increasing travel, the motel is no longer just a roadside inn but a place to spend several days if the traveler finds the rest and recreation he desires. Motel operators must be informed on the scenic and historical features of his area and state and be of assistance to the tourist."

She told the delegates they could be particularly helpful to one another by finding accommodations at other motels when their own are filled and could extend the service further by recommending other sites along another route throughout the state.

Urges Bureau

She encouraged the organization to establish a tourist information bureau within their association and to signify membership by a sign at those motels which are willing to give greater service to the traveler.

"You must extend your interests and activities beyond your immediate interests and help all communities to recognize attractions and special events which can entertain our visitors," she added.

FLAGS LOWERED

Council Hears Safety Report By Patrolman

JEROME, Oct. 10—A traffic safety analysis prepared for Jerome by the National Safety council was outlined for the city council Tuesday night.

The report was made from records compiled by the personnel of the police department for 1957. It was reviewed for the group by Police Lieut. Eugene Heglar.

Heglar pointed out this is the first year Jerome has participated in the program. The purpose is to analyze traffic safety problems of each community, outline police shortcomings and recommending improvements. The report covers nine categories. Jerome's accident record and activities met 71.7% of recommended performance. However, in some categories Jerome fell short of the national average for communities of 5000 population.

Of 181 accidents investigated only 41 citations were issued. The safety council maintains someone is to blame for every accident and at least one and probably two citations should be issued. More aggressive action is recommended against accident-producing violators.

Lieutenant Heglar pointed out Jerome has no written traffic law specifying how much tolerance is allowed, or the policies governing police operations. Mayor Theron Ward requested that such a program be drawn up by Richard Seely, executive attorney, and Fred Abrams, chief of police, and presented to the council.

Heglar also informed the council, "Jerome's training policemen for 1957 paying jobs in other communities, the pay rate being $35 to $50 lower than other communities on both the area and national level. There is no merit system with pay advances or retiring benefits." This opinion was expressed in the report. Policemen working in safety jobs should attend school at least once every two years it was pointed out.

The report pointed out judges should make appropriate remarks about traffic safety at each session, that the judge should be certain all defendants appearing in traffic court are informed as to constitutional rights, and the effect of "guilty" and "not guilty" pleas.

In traffic safety programs and education, Jerome rated 59 per cent participation.

Heglar pointed out an Idaho legislative bill is being prepared to make driver training available to high school on an optional basis. National figure show the program costs around $50 per student. One qualified person should be responsible for supervision of all safety education activities in each school, he noted. Traffic safety programs should be used on radio, film, poster, billboards, distributing of literature and special projects.

In traffic engineering, the report recommended all traffic control signals in Jerome within three blocks of each other be coordinated for progressive movement and reduction of unnecessary stopping, that responsibility for traffic engineering be established by ordinance, and necessary studies be undertaken to determine needs for improving the efficiency of the city's transportation system.

Heglar pointed out all the recommendations were of constructive value and information which was furnished free would cost a considerable amount if done by hired personnel.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

COLLEGE OF IDAHO, Caldwell, Oct. 10—Karen Johnson, Buhl, has been elected president of the Women's Recreation association at the College of Idaho. Other officers were elected last spring.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

In a time of poverty, his battle cry was "Share the Wealth," and the cry won him a tremendous following in his native state. They called him the Louisiana Kingfish and his name was Huey Long.

His liked power . . . and his critics claimed, he had junk as crazy a liking for things like graft and mass guns. He was a stirring orator, and those who heard him on telliy to the way he could make a crowd to strong emotion . . . make them laugh with his comic sense of humor. He had a politician's instinctive gift for knowing what would appeal to the people who voted for him.

But there were those who said that he was a potential dictator, a dangerous man. Then, at the peak of his career, he met a dictator's violent end. That was the blackest story of the year . . . the death of Huey Long, cut down by an assassin's bullet.

Remember the year?

People could be swayed by oratory that year . . . but not when it came to spending a good sum of money, as in buying a car. Sweet talk didn't work. A "steal" that year was 1935.

Sweet talk isn't our stock in trade. Friendly, courteous treatment is . . . and a real desire to give you the best possible deal on a brand new Dodge, Plymouth, Studebaker, Volvo, Commer-cial Valkswagen or Fiat. We'd love to make less money on a deal today . . . and win a long term friend and customer tomorrow. So come in and talk it over now, at Bob Reese Motor Co., 500 Block, Second South, Buhl. REgwood 3-7062.

Murtaugh Girl Wins National Highway Safety Essay Contest

* * * *

MURTAUGH, Oct. 10—Betty Jean Young, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young, Murtaugh, has been selected as national winner of the 1958 highway safety essay contest sponsored by the Automotive Safety foundation, Washington, D. C.

Before winning the national contest, the Murtaugh high school junior won first in the state and sectional contests. Her prize as state winner is a $15 check and expenses for herself and one parent to the state Grange convention at Shoshone. Her national prize is a $100 U. S. savings bond and expenses for herself and one parent to the National Grange at Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 10 to 18.

She also will read her winning essay at both the state and national Grange conventions.

Miss Young is the third national winner from Twin Falls county in the past five years. In 1953, Carol Ann Stansbury, Twin Falls, was winner and the 1954 winner was Donald Young, Murtaugh, a brother of this year's winner. Miss Young won third place in the state in 1953.

Her essay was entitled "Community Organization for Highway Safety!"

Lions Entertain At Ladies Night

WENDELL, Oct. 10—Lions Ladies Night was observed Monday with dinner and program at the city hall.

A motion picture on flag etiquette was shown. Accordion music students of Bernie Dasso furnished the musical part of the program. Appearing were Christine Doramus, Larry Bateman, Deborah Goble, soloist; and Laura Ravis and Joan Emery, and Bonnie Pope and Donna Pope, duets.

Roger Judd became a member of the club. Ann McGrath, Seattle, was a guest.

Douglas Schrank, chairman of the light bulb sales project, announced the annual sales campaign will begin Oct. 17.

Dairymen to Meet In Boise Monday

BUHL, Oct. 10—A. H. Jagels, Buhl, president of the Idaho Dairymen's association, announced the autumn meeting will be held Monday at the Owyhee hotel, Boise.

W. L. Hendrix, manager of the association, says plans will be discussed for the annual meeting at Boise in mid-January.

Current directors include Charles Hart, Filer; A. H. Jagels, Buhl, and Vernon T. Patch, Buhl.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Mason

WENDELL, Oct. 10 — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Mason were conducted Tuesday at the Wendell Methodist church with the Rev. A. E. Gilbert officiating.

Mrs. Fred Eaton, organist, accompanied two soloists, Mrs. Wayne Page and Mrs. J. Forrest Weaver.

Pallbearers were Grant Kollinger, E. E. Parr, Fred Eaton, Joe Sprenger, C. C. Weinberg and Russell King.

Graveside services were directed by Idaho Rebekah lodge No. 96 with Mrs. Owen Boian, Mrs. Frank Jeffries and Mrs. S. K. Bungum taking part.

Automation Told At Youth Meeting

WENDELL, Oct. 10—A play on "automation" was presented by Larry Phillips, John Ward and Michael Roe for the Westminster Fellowship meeting held at the Presbyterian church.

The program was arranged by Sharon Bungum and Aletha Woodruff. Robert Parkinson led the devotions.

Linda Price conducted the meeting and the Rev. and Mrs. Chad E. Bolick were present as sponsors.

A council meeting is planned for 7 p.m. Sunday preceding the regular meeting.

Donald Ward, Larry Phillips and Edward Gulliford served refreshments.

Triple Trouble

BRIDGETON, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—Bad luck is dogging Cumberland county Freeholder Max April.

His car turned over in August, and he was thrown out, incurring serious bruises.

Last month, the April brothers orchard in Millville had a fire with damage running to $150,000.

Last night, April hobbled into the Board of Freeholders' meeting on crutches. He explained he fell off a platform.

FFA Leader Will Play at U.S. Meet

WENDELL, Oct. 10 — Barry Brown, Wendell, and Harrison Matthews, Burley, left Wednesday for Kansas City, Mo., where they will play in the National Future Farmers of America band at the national convention Oct. 13 to 15.

Brown is vice president of the Wendell chapter, FFA, student director and president of the Wendell high school band. Mathews is a member of the Burley chapter and a band member.

The FFA band will practice from Oct. 10 to 12. It is scheduled to lead the American Royal Livestock parade Oct. 13. The boys plan to return Oct. 21.

Barry plays a baritone saxophone. He is a senior at Wendell high school. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brown.

Mrs. J. W. Weech Is Lesson Guide

HAGERMAN, Oct. 10—"He that has eternal life is rich," was the theme of the theology lesson given by Mrs. J. W. Weech at the meeting of the Relief society Tuesday afternoon at the LDS church.

Following the lesson the visiting teacher's message was given by Mrs. Verda Wood.

Mrs. Jack Allen, president, conducted the meeting with Mrs. Monte Peterson giving the opening prayer and Mrs. Flora Chatterton, the closing prayer.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Time and again it becomes necessary for the teacher to send a note home. Usually there is a special reason for this and usually it is an unpleasant one. Either the pupil is failing despite all efforts to bring him up to standard or he has done something so far out of line that his parents must know about it.

This note can have far-reaching consequences. Words have different meanings to different people. The teacher may think he has been sympathetic, understanding and kind while the person reading it may think otherwise. The teacher may believe that he has understated the misdeed while the parent reading it may think he has been informed that his child is nearing juvenile delinquency.

Some parents are angered by the note. "Whose fault is it that the child misbehaved? Can he follow his child to school? He has to work for a living, etc." Some are angry at the child and mistreat him. Others are sensible and do what should have been done in the first place; make a personal visit and talk the matter over with the teacher to make sure of the meaning of it.

People will write or phone things they would not say when face to face with the other people. That is a providential arrangement that keeps people from creating lasting hurts in one another's minds. Two people talking together are less likely to say the meanest things they can think of. There usually springs up a certain sympathy between two human beings even in disagreement that is completely absent in the complaining note.

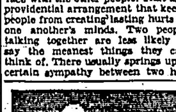

The astute politician who warned his district leaders: "Don't write; don't telephone; Go!" was a wise gentleman. Teachers and parents should take a hint from him.

Take time to think things over before grabbing the phone or sending a note. The misdemeanor that seemed so outrageous that afternoon may next morning, look more like a bit of mischief that any normal boy might enjoy and all that is needed is a word of warning to the young miscreant. If it still seems important enough to be brought to the parental notice, save the note and have a personal consultation.

This is as important to parents as it is to teachers. Mutual trust is essential in the relationships involved and notes rarely improve this. When junior complains bitterly of being mistreated by his teachers take time to cool off and if the situation still looks bad in the morning, see the teacher about it, not in anger but in a cooperative spirit. Spare the notes.

Contest Slated in Minidoka Schools

RUPERT, Oct. 10—A "Voice of Democracy" contest featuring broadcast script writing will be held in Minidoka county during the next six weeks.

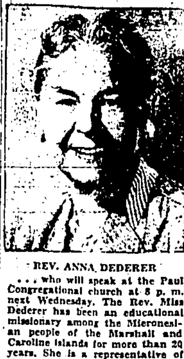

The first contest is scheduled Monday at Minico high school.

The contest, sponsored locally by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and radio station KAYT, is open to all students in the sophomore, junior and senior years of high school. Each contestant will write and deliver a three to five minute script on the theme, "I Speak for Democracy." Scripts should be in the style of broadcast commentaries, according to Mrs. Aenon Moller, speech director at Minico and local supervisor of the contest.

The top winner in each school competes later in a statewide contest. Tape recordings will be made for the state event and the state winner's script will be entered in the national competition. State winners will win a trip to Washington, D. C.

The top national prize is a $1,500 scholarship to any college preferred by the winner.

Hard of hearing aided by secret that science got from animals!

Nature has endowed the donkey and other animals with a unique ability man doesn't possess—the ability to coordinate sight and hearing—to point his ears directly toward what he wants to hear as he looks at it, in order to hear it better.

Now, through an exclusive "invisible ear" ingeniously hidden within the front frame of an attractive pair of eyeglasses, Otarion makes it possible for you also to coordinate sight and hearing. As you turn naturally to face the sound, it goes directly into the "invisible ear." You hear better—faster—easier.

This amazing new eyeglass hearing aid with the "invisible ear" challenges detection: It has no cords, no buttons, no ear molds. A tiny almost invisible tube leads to the ear. You can now end the confusion caused by annoying unwanted noises because the new Otarion Listener is the only hearing aid in the world to give you the superior benefit of direct frontal hearing.

Do not confuse this with any other eyeglass hearing aid. It is a completely new scientific achievement—exclusive with Otarion.

Otarion Listener, inventor of the world's first eyeglass hearing aid, will be happy to send you, without cost or obligation, the complete fascinating story of this amazing new scientific achievement.

TWIN FALLS BLASTS GOODING 34-0 IN NON-CONFERENCE TILT

Yanks Complete Comeback by Drubbing Braves for World Championship

Fike, Ulrich and Warner Score Early Touchdowns to Send Bruins to First Win

The Twin Falls Bruins sent John Ulrich and Bill Warner over for one touchdown each and Larry Fike for two in the opening minutes of the ball game and went on to blast Gooding's Senators 34-0 Thursday night. The non-conference win was the first for the Bruins, who play Pocatello here next week, while Gooding still seeks its first victory. Twin Falls coach Bob Hilliard went with an all-junior squad in the closing three quarters against the inexperienced, desertion-riddled Senators. Six of the Gooding starters failed to show up for the contest, forcing coach Lou Hirschman to improvise an entirely new backfield.

John Ulrich, a brilliant performer all year for Twin Falls, started the ball rolling when he went 55 yards on the second play from scrimmage for a touchdown. Ulrich also plunged over the extra point. Seconds later, the shifty scatback went 48 yards for another score but it was nullified by a penalty.

Then, after Bill Warner had intercepted a pass, Fike got his first score, bucking up the middle six yards. He set up his own score by rambling 30 yards two plays pre-

Warner, who turned in several sparkling broken field running displays, returned a Gooding punt to the Senator 41-yard line minutes later. On the first play, Burt (The Stork) Strong lofted a 41-yard pass to Fike who carried the ball home. Fike also converted.

Warner got his chance as the second period opened, picking off a long Gooding pass. The speedy senior swivel-hipped past two tacklers and side stepped another as he raced 55 yards for the fourth touchdown. Fike plunged the point after across.

The game settled down over the third quarter, Gooding penetrating to the Bruins 20-yard line once before being stopped. Then Strong, a junior quarterback, marshalled his classmates on a 73-yard march in seven plays.

Terry Frantz started it with 13 and added seven more. Gary DeFord got another seven before Bill Carder ripped off 16 and 23 yards in two tries. Mike Standlee got two more and Strong pushed the ball into the end zone on a quarterback sneak from five yards out. Frantz drove the extra point home.

Dick Cameron highlighted the Bruin defense, making getting seven tackles and two assists while playing little more than a quarter. The junior unit defensive honors were shared by Jim Hendrix, Larry Craig and Charles Basom, who also got seven tackles.

Outstanding for Gooding was the all-around play of Terry Hopkins, who played 60 minutes of strenuous back spot. Hopkins was pressed into fullback duties from his regular quarterback slot because of the missing regulars. Ray Gibbons also turned in a steady performance.

New Zealand Closes With Leaders in Meet

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Oct. 10 (AP)—Great Britain's hardy linksmen faltered Thursday but it was little New Zealand, and not the United States, which moved into stronger contention for the world amateur golf championship. As icy winds continued to blow over the rolling Old Course of St. Andrews, a New Zealand lefthander, Bob Charles, took the individual lead from Scotland's Reid Jack. And he put his country within one stroke of the front-running British. Britain's team total after 36 holes was 461. New Zealand was second at 462, followed by the United States, with 465.

The competition for the Eisenhower Trophy is a team affair. The scores of the best three players of each country are aggregated daily. The championship will be awarded on the 72-hole aggregate Saturday.

Charles, retaining his putting poise in winds which often reached 35 miles per hour, fired a second and straight 74 for a 36-hole score of 148. He overtook Scotland's weather-hardened Jack, who could do no better than 77 after Wednesday's opening 72, for 149.

Still strong in the running for unofficial individual honors was Charlie Coe, the red-thin U. S. amateur champion from Oklahoma City. Coe, despite some shaky putting, bracketed a 77 with a previous 74 for 151.

This placed the Oklahoman in third place in the individual race, the victor of which probably will be acclaimed the world's outstanding amateur golfer.

Other Americans fared well, but didn't score well enough to pick up much ground on the British, who led by six strokes after Wednesday's round.

William Tyndman of Philadelphia, still looking for his first birdie in the tournament, shot a 77 for 156. Scrambling Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., more accustomed than anyone ever had seen him, added a 78 for 158.

The fourth U. S. representative, Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., improved by two strokes with a 79. His 160 total, fourth best among the Yanks, was not counted.

Arizona End Paces NCAA in Pass Receiving

By The Associated Press

Anyone who read the University of Arizona's football brochure before the start of the 1958 college football season and then looked at the offensive statistics in its first three games must have done a double take.

The big mystery is Dave Hibbert, a rangy end who has caught 16 passes in three games, to take the leadership in that department, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau in New York. Hibbert is not listed in the brochure.

Hibbert had a good day last Saturday against Tulsa with five receptions to jump from forth place. He has not scored but has netted his team 160 yards.

Second is Ulmo Randle of Virginia, with 14 receptions in three games for 244 yards and two touchdowns while Cal Bird of Kentucky has snagged 13 in three games, scoring twice and gaining 192 yards.

Charley Milstead of Texas A and M leads the nation's punters with a 49.9 yards average on eight punts. Georgia's Bob Walden has kicked 12 times for a 47.7 average, while Don Coker of North Carolina has a 46.7 average on seven punts.

Chastain Gets Lineman of Week Honors

By The Associated Press

A vital pass interception that saved Michigan State from a surprise defeat at the hands of Michigan brought lineman of the week honors today to Jim Chastain.

This is how the MSU junior center from Waynesburg, Pa., saved the day for the Spartans and the Wolverines last Saturday. At the time, early in the last period, Michigan led 12-6 and was threatening again. The Wolverine had the ball on the MSU seven, third down and goal to go.

Michigan quarterback Bob Timcek faded back and threw a forward pass. Chastain intercepted the pass on the goal line. He downed on the three and from there Michigan State started a 97-yard drive for a touchdown and a 12-12 tie, the final score.

Two other centers, Bob Harrison of Oklahoma and Jim J. Holub of Texas Tech, also received high praise in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Harrison intercepted an Oregon pass and ran 24 yards to the Oregon 20. The play led to the only touchdown of the game as the Sooners nipped Oregon 6-0. In addition, Harrison made eight tackles and assisted in seven others.

Holub's great defensive work against Texas held the Longhorns to a 12-7 victory. He made six unassisted tackles and was credited with nine assists. In addition he broke up one pass and recovered a fumble.

Pete Wasilewski, George Washington tackle, and Murray Armstrong, Tennessee end, were prominent, too. Wasilewski kicked a 23-yard field goal with less than two minutes to play and brought GW an 11-8 victory over Furman. Armstrong figured in Tennessee's surprise victory over Mississippi State with a 55-yard pass interception.

Other linemen nominated:

Tackles — Wayne Harris, Arkansas, Opp Bandy, Tulsa, Hogan Wharton, Houston.

Guards — John Bodkin, South Carolina, Al Kenyon, Holy Cross, Tom Koenig, Southern Methodist, John Wooten, Colorado.

Ends—Buddy Dial, Rice, Wahoo McDaniel, Oklahoma.

Ducks Find Man For Conversions

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 10 (AP)—The University of Oregon, which has been hurting for lack of a place-kicker, found one Thursday.

Surprisingly enough he once booted seven consecutive points for arch-rival Oregon State.

He is Jim Clarke, independence, Ore. He did his place-kicking for Oregon State as a sophomore in 1956, then went to the University of Mexico.

Clarke transferred to Oregon but did not turn out for football until Thursday.

Coach Len Casanova said he will use Clarke in the game against Southern California at Portland Saturday night, if Clarke can regain his kicking skill in time.

Bear Hunt Ends In Big Stink

WAKEFIELD, Mich., Oct. 10 (AP)—Wayne Foster got his black bear in a backyard hunting trip, but his wife wishes he hadn't.

Foster, a Wakefield school teacher, shot the bear in his yard two nights ago. He grabbed his rifle and charged out the door. As Foster left, a skunk walked in the open door and hid behind a refrigerator.

Police finally chased the skunk out. Mrs. Foster is scrubbing down the kitchen with odor removers.

Wednesday night the bear came back. Foster shot through a closed screen door, killing the 275-pound animal.

Now he has to fix the door.

Heavy Traffic at Third Base

Traffic was heavy around third base in sixth inning of a world series game at Yankee stadium in New York. Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, right, heads back to second after finding teammate Red Schoendienst already there. Yankee third baseman Jerry Lumpe is calling for the ball to make tag. The confusion started when Schoendienst rounded third and headed for home on Wes Covington's single. Meanwhile Aaron dashed from first to third. Schoendienst was finally tagged out on a rundown between third and home plate. (AP wirephoto)

Stengel Says Looks Like Yankees Could Play in National League

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 10 (AP)—"Now we look like we could play in the National league."

A proud, beaming Casey Stengel shouted this jibe across the hilarious New York dressing room after the Yankees beat the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, to win the world series Thursday. The mob of writers, photographers and radio-TV men looked like a bunch of dogs in a butcher shop trying to settle on a hero. Moose Skowron, whose three-run homer in the eighth killed the Braves for keeps, was the center of most attention. But Elston Howard, who singled home Yogi Berra to start the Yanks' four-run eighth after two were out, also was mobbed. So were Bob Turley, who allowed only two hits in a splendid relief role, and the great-fielding Gil McDougald.

The 68-year-old Stengel's eyes were sparkling and for an instant, he appeared speechless. Then the torrent of words came:

"Didn't that fellow Turley pitch a whale of a game?

"This was a great series victory because we started so poorly. Then, we came together. Now we look like the real New York Yankees.

"Now we look like we could play in the National league."

This was a slam at pitcher Lew Burdette, who said after winning the second series game, "I'd like to see the Yankees in the National league. I think our league has two or three teams as tough as the Yankees."

This also was the thought of a lot of observers, who believed the Yankees had a breeze in the American league and would have had quite a struggle in the National loop.

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves visited the Yankee dressing room to congratulate his rival manager.

Stengel posed with his arm around Haney and chortled: "We'll have it (the series) here again next year. Only we'll build a bigger stadium."

This hinted the ancient Yankee leader would be back for a try at bettering the world series record of seven post-season classic triumphs, which Stengel now shares with Joe McCarthy.

"He did the best he can," said Stengel of Haney. "And I do the best I can."

"Tell your boys they played well," said Stengel.

Turley's Relief Pitching Returns Flag to New York

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 10 (AP)—Strong-armed Bob Turley led the revived New York Yankees to the greatest baseball comeback in 53 years Thursday as they stormed back from a 3-1 deficit to dethrone Milwaukee in the seventh game of the world series. Turley, working his third straight game, dazzled the Braves with a two-hit relief job over 6⅔ innings while the Yanks clubbed Lew Burdette for a 6-2 victory. It was sweet revenge for the Yanks, three-time losers to Burdette a year ago, as they ripped into their tormentor for four big runs in the eighth inning, breaking a 2-2 tie.

Burdette had yielded two unearned runs in the second but the Braves scored first off shaky Don Larsen and tied the score on Del Crandall's homer off Turley in the sixth.

Two men were out when the Yankee uprising started with a long double to right by Yogi Berra that just missed being a homerun by about two feet. The drive bounced off a padding high on the right field barrier.

Elston Howard fouled off one pitch and looked at a ball before he bounced a single over second base. Berra hustled home with the big winning run.

Andy Carey, hitless in 11 trips, smashed a single off Eddie Mathews' glove into short left before Bill Skowron hammered a 2-2 pitch far and away over the fence in the left center field for a 415-foot three-run homer.

Burdette bowed his head, paced the mound restlessly and finally closed out the inning by striking out Tony Kubek.

Crandall's homer with two out in the sixth was the only hit off the Yankee pitchers. Four batters later, Adcock sliced a pinch single to left with two gone in the ninth. When Mickey Mantle gathered in Red Schoendienst's grounder for the final out, the short reign of the Braves had ended.

The Yankees, who usually take victory in stride, gathered around Turley as he walked off the mound, pounding his back, pumping his hand and yelling congratulations. The man who was yelling the most was Casey Stengel whose seventh world series victory ties him with Joe McCarthy among the managers of all time.

It was the greatest comeback in baseball since the 1925 Pittsburgh Pirates, after losing three out of four to Washington, closed with a rush to take three straight by beating Walter Johnson on a rain-soaked afternoon. No other club ever had overcome such a handicap in best-of-seven series until the 1958 Yankees.

These Yankees were given up for dead, counted out beyond recall after they lost the first two games in Milwaukee.

Fans were saying this might have been the worst Yankee club ever to win an American league pennant.

Larsen's shutout in the third game eliminated any chance of a Yankee sweep but Warren Spahn's shutout put the Yankees down 3-1 and left them needing three straight.

Haney Won't Alibi; Cites Yank Pitching

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 10 (AP)—Manager Fred Haney refused to alibi the Braves' world series defeat Thursday saying, "Instead of offering, let's talk about how good the pitchers were." Contrary to what might be expected, under the circumstances, the Braves, from the top down, did not appear to be downhearted over losing their championship to the Yankees.

The clubhouse was relaxed. There even was some horseplay in the showers and wisecracks by individual players.

Haney, corralled by a pack of writers near his cubicle, made it plain there would be no post-mortems on the Braves' 6-2 loss to Casey Stengel's Yanks.

"Let's not talk about our bad slump," he said. "Let's talk about their pitching, Bob Turley pitched great ball. So did (Whitey) Ford only he was unlucky.

"I give them all the credit in the world. I have no alibis and neither do my players. We had our chances. They beat us. They deserved to win. To the victor belongs the spoils."

When someone asked Haney to pick a turning point in the series that saw Milwaukee take a 3-1 lead in games and then lose three in a row and the title, he replied:

"The turning point was in the bats. We scored 17 runs in our first two games and only seven in the last five.

"We had our chances. If we had some runs, it might have been different but let's not talk about that. The Yankees were great."

Only one other team ever lost a seven-game series after taking a two-edge in games. That was the Senators in 1925 when the Pirates came storming back to take the championship.

3 Utah State Regulars May Miss Contest

LOGAN, Utah, Oct. 10 (AP)—Utah State University may not be able to use three first stringers against New Mexico Saturday, Coach Ev Faunce said today.

The trio includes all-conference halfback Overton Curtis, fullback Leo Darchambre and quarterback Merrill Johnson. Faunce indicated they may not even make the trip to Albuquerque for the Skyline conference game. If they do, none expect to see more than limited service.

Curtis received a severe leg bruise in the Aggies' 20-13 victory over Kansas State last week. Johnson twisted a knee in the game and Darchambre has been nursing bruised ribs for two weeks.

The Aggies' worked Wednesday on defense. Faunce is trying to work out a pattern to stop the explosive running of New Mexico's great back, Don Perkins.

Jerry Pelovsky, a back converted to end, apparently has nailed down the starting position at left end. Pelovsky played a sensational game against Kansas State, scoring one touchdown on a pass and keeping the Aggies in command with great defensive work.

Vandals Practice

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Coach Skip Stahley of the Idaho Vandals showed up for practice Wednesday despite a sore throat and fever.

Stahley sent the Vandals through blocking and kicking plays. He described the tackling in the Vandal victory over Utah last week, particularly on kickoff returns, as miserable.

Olympic Group Drops Amateur Athletic Oath

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Oct. 10 (AP)—The International Olympic committee Thursday dropped the controversial oath of amateur intention from the rules of future Olympic games.

The new Olympic rules, published Thursday, contained a less exacting version of the amateur oath, which every athlete has to sign before being allowed to compete. At the same time, the rules for the first time challenged the amateur status of competitors whose names or pictures appear in commercial advertising—even if the publicity is unpaid.

The previous version required athletes to pledge:

"I declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

The new rules make the oath read "I declare on my honor that I am an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

Youth Is Injured In Tackle Drill

RICHFIELD, Oct. 10—Tony Jansen, 13, incurred a compound fracture of his right leg Monday in physical education class at Richfield junior high school.

The break, just above the ankle, occurred in tackle practice under the supervision of Coach Al Daniels. An ambulance was called and the youth taken to St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jansen, West Richfield.

No Giant Found In Coast League After 3 Weeks

By The Associated Press

The Pacific Coast conference swings into the fourth week of the 1958 football season and, while there have been surprises, as yet no giant has been uncovered among the warring brethren. Three conference and three non-league games are on tap, leading off Friday night in Los Angeles with UCLA, a fallen giant, entertaining Florida in the Bruins last intersectional encounter.

On Saturday night in Portland, Oregon renews its bid for at least a share of the PCC title against unpredictable Southern California.

And earlier in the day two other conference surprises, Washington and Washington State, engage PCC rivals, the Huskies against Stanford at Stanford and the WSC Cougars against Idaho at Moscow.

Oregon State meets Wyoming at Laramie and California hosts Utah at Berkeley.

Washington, sparked by Bob Hivner, proved a pleasant surprise in waxing Minnesota and holding mighty Ohio State to a 12-7 score. Winless Stanford should prove no mystery.

Washington State, conversely, was a surprise of another sort as the Cougars absorbed a 34-14 licking from a supposedly clawless California Golden Bear. WSC should rebound against Idaho.

Oregon did everything but beat unbeatable Oklahoma (6-0) while USC lost 8-7 to North Carolina, a team that was far better than given credit. And the Trojans were far better than their critics realized.

UCLA, loser in anything but an upset to Oregon State, must conquer a tough line and a weak offense to get by Florida. California should extend its winning "streak."

It is difficult to pinpoint any one game of the week-end slate as a great one but one that does offer a possible upset would be the Oregon-Trojan engagement.

Oregon merits the role of solid favorite, especially after its stand against Oklahoma. They say Len Casanova has developed quite a team after losing most of his 1957 Rose bowl outfit.

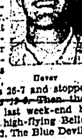

Coach Don Clark's Trojans are young and lack seasoning. But they have ambitions and if they can play like they did in their win over Oregon State and one-point loss to Michigan, they could make it rough on Oregon.

The new season has already been a nightmare for the experts. This week's special, for nightmares: USC over Oregon, UCLA over Florida, California over Utah, Oregon State over Wyoming, WSC over Idaho and Washington over Stanford.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

A pat on the back to the Dietrich Blue Devils and a tip of the hat to coach Wayne Perron are in order this week as Dietrich rings the curtain down on a highly successful football season.

Hovey

The team from the almost forgotten football town racked up five victories against one defeat for the year. They started out with a 20-0 scrimmage victory over Bliss, dropping Hagerman's jayvees 26-7, and over Bliss 26-7 and stopped Gooding's jayvees 19-6. Then they capped the year last week-end by knocking off the high-flying Bellevue Bulldogs 25-13. The Blue Devils' sole loss came at the hands of Carey, which topped them 12-6.

But here's the big point: Coach Perron had only 13 men out for football the entire season.

Gooding coach Lou Hirschman was dealt a low blow Thursday night when six of his regulars failed to make the bus. Whether they were unexpectedly detained and had good excuses or simply decided to forego the effort, Hirschman didn't know. But he was counting on them when the bus left Gooding late Thursday afternoon.

It ranks as a crushing blow to Hirschman, battling to rebuild a team of promising freshmen and sophomores. No coach minds rebuilding. They expect a "drought" every few years. But the fans don't. And fans turn into "wolves" howling for success even during the lean years.

Hirschman ended the night making stop-gap improvisions. Shifting his quarterback to fullback, an end to quarterback and tossing inexperienced underclassman into the line.

He doesn't use it for an alibi in his loss to the Bruins, who were impressive Thursday night. It's only that a coach, if he must be beaten, prefers to go down fighting with his best. Six Gooding boys robbed him of that small amount of satisfaction.

Twin Falls' coach used the Gooding game to gain some experience for his juniors and see what certain individuals could do under fire. Of course, the first string didn't like riding the bench.

One fire-eater on the first string summed it up quite well.

"This is a beckova game," he commented. "When you're getting beat they leave you in all the time and you get mauled. When you get ahead and are having fun playing, they jerk you out."

Then he smiled, dug out a parka and found a seat on the bench.

The Bruins are working themselves up for a supreme effort against the "Oklahoma" of the Southern conference, Pocatello's Indians, whom they take on at Lincoln field next week.

Barring an unforseen loss this week-end, the Indians will pull into Twin Falls with a 28-game win streak. The line, in the past three games, shows it is ready. Coach Hillard is working on pass defense to bring that up to a level with the line.

Line play in the game should be savage as that is the strong point of Pocatello's team this year. The Indians backfield is not feared as much this year as in previous seasons.

Win or lose, the Bruins will play their best and it should prove an interesting tussle no one should want to miss.

Utah Coach Lists Traveling Squad

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Coach Ray Nagel announced a 34-man traveling squad today which he will take to Berkeley for Utah's Saturday game against California.

Nagel sent the varsity against the freshman team in a full-scale scrimmage Wednesday.

Nagel will leave three regulars home. Stan Uyeshiro, 142-pound halfback who started the first two games, won't make the trip. Larry Fields, Gooding, and Terry Lewton, Buhl, the team's top two fullbacks, also will stay at home. All are nursing injuries.

Garth Rohde, Ogden, bruised his leg against Idaho and may have lost his starting spot in the line to Harold Warfle.

Stahley in Line for Governor's Job if Idaho Can Beat WSC Again

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (UPI)—It's another election year and genial Skip Stahley may be the best vote-getter of them all if he can politic his Idaho Vandals to victory over Washington State Saturday. He got write-ins for governor during the '54 election after underdog Idaho clobbered the Cougars 10-0 and another such upset would be strong campaign medicine indeed. That was the Vandals' first win in 25 years over their archrivals from a hoot and a holler down the road. Idaho hasn't had one since and by all odds shouldn't get one this year, either.

But the odds don't mean much in this "Battle of the Palouse," one of the oldest football series in the West. WSC usually is favored but victories haven't been easy.

And the students back their teams to the limit—in fact, beyond limits. Two years ago, the usual fist fights broke out across the field here after the game. The local gendarmes had to use tear gas to break up the disturbance.

When Ol' Skip said this year's team might be as good as last season's, the smart boys responded with polite sighs. He lost his quarterbacks and most of the great line from that squad, which was the best in 20 years. The replacements didn't seem to be at hand.

But Stahley, who molds surprisingly good teams from meager material, has brought the Vandals along. Employing a balanced offense with a strong defense, Idaho lost to Oregon by four touchdowns, looked vastly improved in losing to Missouri on a last-second tally, and then broke into the win column by blanking Utah last week.

Idaho did a good job of containing Lee Grosscup, Utah's fine passer. He looked good in the statistics but could not put any points on the scoreboard as the tough Idaho line pressured him.

Bob Newman, Washington State's passing star, can expect similar treatment. "Defense" apparently is a naughty word at Cougarville. The philosophy there seems to be that the best defense is a good offense. This hasn't proved out except against Stanford, which had neither. WSC, the early season Rose bowl choice, allowed 29 points to Northwestern and 34 to California as those lightly regarded teams poured over, through and around the Cougars' defenders and checked the Newman aerial circus.

Nevertheless, coach Jim Sutherland's passing offense is dynamic and rolls up impressive yardage. Interceptions and fumbles have hurt at key times. The Cougars still have a slim chance for the Rose bowl but they can't afford to let down against Idaho.

57 Freshmen Turn Out for Vandal Squad

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—A 57-man freshman football team at the University of Idaho was named today by coach Wayne Anderson and 32 of them are from out of state.

Anderson said the squad includes 27 players who were all conference during their high school days and two who made prep "All America" lists, Ron Karlberg of Lewiston and Delmar Hudson of Pocatello.

Coach Skip Stahley, busy with his varsity football efforts, said he was pleased at the ability and numbers of the freshman group.

"We shall be looking forward to these youngsters moving into the varsity ranks next season," said Stahley. "Although I haven't seen them and won't until later on, I understand the squad features speed and size so dear to the heart of a coach."

Folley Flies to England for Bout

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Zora Folley, No. 1 American contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title, arrived Thursday for his Oct. 14 fight with British heavyweight Henry Cooper.

"I'm not nervous about being number three to come over," the Chandler, Ariz., fighter grinned to newsmen at London airport. "I know all about Eddie Machen and Willie Pastrano getting beaten in Europe.

"But it was those guys who lost, not me."

Machen was knocked out by European heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson. Pastrano lost to British heavyweight champion Brian London. Both fights were last month.

Bill Majors Is Filling Shoes Of His Brother

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 10 (UPI)—It looks like the feet will fill the footsteps.

The feet belong to Bill Majors, a 19-year-old sophomore starting at tailback for the University of Tennessee.

The footsteps are those of Bill's brother, Johnny Majors. Everybody's All-American a few seasons ago and "up on the hill" those footsteps are considered hallowed ground.

Like everybody else connected with Tennessee football, Bill has wondered about following his famous brother. But he hasn't worried about it like a lot of other people.

"Sure, I've given it some thought," Majors says, "but that's not my goal. I just want to do the best I can.

"It's helped me try and be good, but I'll never do as well as he did."

The returns won't be in for three years but Mississippi State thinks that Bill Majors is plenty good right now.

Mississippi State was leading the Vols 8-7 with a little more than three minutes to go last week and it looked like the pesky Tennesseans were just about through.

But they didn't count on Majors and an unexpected aerial display. The six-foot, 167-pounder tossed a series of passes as Tennessee marched downfield and finally spotted end Murray Armstrong in the end zone for the winning score.

"That game gave us a lot of confidence," Majors says, "not only me but the whole team."

"I think Bill Majors did a great job in his second college game," Coach Bowden Wyatt said. "He showed a lot of poise."

Wyatt's lavish praise came as somewhat of a surprise because the coach has been trying to keep the pressure off his young tailback.

Derby Winner Dies

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 10 (AP)—Ponder, upset winner of the diamond jubilee Kentucky Derby, died Wednesday at Calumet farm.

The farm announced a twisted intestine killed the 1949 derby winner. The same ailment took the life of Ponder's sire, 1944 derby winner Pensive.

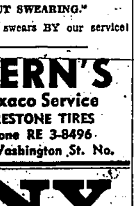

Ponder won by three lengths over Capot in the derby. Olympia, who entered the race a 4-5 favorite, finished fifth.

Fullback Returns To USC Scrimmage

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (AP)—No. 1 fullback Clark Holden went through a regular workout for the first time in three weeks Thursday and probably will play for Southern California against Oregon Saturday.

Holden, troubled by a charley horse all season, will not start. Jerry Persinger will open at fullback.

Golfer and Seagull End Clash in Tie

SOUTH BRISTOL, Me., Oct. 10 (AP)—Wawenock Country club members are talking today about the golfing adventures of Dr. Richard Hornberger and the seagull.

Hornberger was playing the 405-yard second hole in a foursome recently when he lunked his second shot close enough to the pin to assure the worst duffer of a birdie.

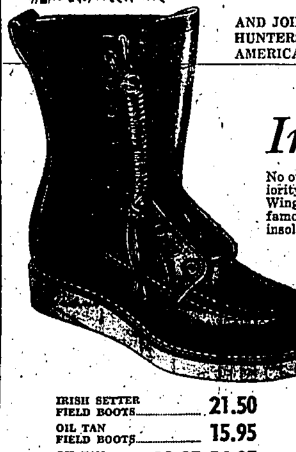

As he approached the green a seagull swooped down, scooped up his ball, and dropped it a full pitch shot from the green. Hornberger felt like swapping his golf clubs for a shotgun when his companions made him play the ball where it fell.

But the story doesn't end there.

Hornberger's tee shot on the 240-yard third hole hooked into the rough. Sure enough, the seagull again closed in on the ball. The gull swooped up over the green before realizing it had made the same mistake twice, then dropped the ball about 10 feet from the pin.

Hornberger got his birdie.

X-15 Rocket Craft Nears Completion

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Oct. 10 (UPI)—The X-15 rocket-powered space ship designed to fly man higher and faster than ever before will be rolled from the assembly line next Wednesday it was disclosed today by North American Aviation.

The company also said Vice President Richard Nixon would be principal speaker at brief rollout ceremonies on the flight ramp at Los Angeles international airport.

It will be a press preview on the craft, designed to penetrate outer space, and a prelude to extensive glide tests at Edwards air force base on the Mojave desert.

Meeting Hears U. P. Delaying On Underpass

in two different highway districts.

"Lots of improvements could be done if there was a master plan to work with," he added. He also said there would be more efficiency if the four districts in the county were consolidated.

Asked where the revenue for the highway district comes from, Olmstead explained some comes from the state which divides motor-users revenue according to a certain formula and some is levied on property by the highway district.

He said a three and one-half mill levy was being made this year in the Twin Falls highway district. He gave at least four reasons for the necessity. One, he said, was that the district has been living on surplus money and now the surplus is gone; second, increased costs; third, the district is trying to build up money to finance a new crossing on Blue Lakes boulevard south across Rock creek canyon, and fourth, more work in the southwest part of the district is anticipated.

Warren Daigh, Twin Falls county agent, reported that a candidate for Grassman of the Year has been selected. He is Charles E. Harris, route 2, Twin Falls, and will be sponsored by the Twin Falls county Farm Bureau.

Daigh also reported that rabbit bait was prepared Thursday and will be used in the southwest part of the county as soon as the weather permits. It probably will be made available at the canal company office at Hollister, he said.

William J. Lanting, acting chairman of the meeting Tuesday night, explained the purpose of a citizen's meeting at Boise next Thursday to study the state's taxation problems. He urged all interested persons who want to attend to be ready to leave the chamber office at 7 a.m. next Thursday. Heber Loughmiller was asked to contact the Pomona Grange and ask it to send a representative, and Floyd Lincoln was asked to contact the Farm Bureau for a representative.

Lanting also explained that a hearing will be held at Boise next Thursday on the need for a soil and water laboratory in this area. A motion was passed to ask Glenn Nelson and Lyle Schnitker to prepare a brief and present it at the hearing. The Agricultural division has been attempting to get the federal government to locate such a laboratory in the Twin Falls area.

Mrs. Rodney Tegan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, explained work being done to reduce freight rates to and from Twin Falls. She said the present rates have hindered the Twin Falls area in its efforts to obtain new industries.

New Tile Pipeline Voted at Richfield

RICHFIELD, Oct. 10—Richfield village board members heard reports on water and thistle damage and passed a motion to construct a tile pipeline in the northeast section of town at the regular session this week.

The clerk reported all water samples checked by board of health to Oct. 3 had no contamination.

Board members complained about thistle seeding on resident property from Big Wood Canal company lateral ditch banks.

Water assessments not paid the past season were ordered certified to the county auditor for placement on the 1958 tax rolls.

New tile line ordered installed will lead from the canal lateral on the northeast corner of block 20 to present ditch on Third street and connect with tile line on Third street and Blaine avenue.

Get Judgment

Leo Jarolimek and Gilbert Jarolimek received a $6,092.13 judgment Friday in Twin Falls district court against Harry Dannenhauer.

The judgment stems from a $4,800 promissory note dated July 31, 1955, and payable to the Jarolimek brothers. Costs, interest and attorney fees make up the balance. The judgment was granted by Judge Hugh A. Baker. Creason and Creason, Rupert, represent the Jarolimeks.

REIMERS TAKE TRIP

HAILEY, Oct. 10—Mrs. A. W. Reimers left Wednesday for Cascade to visit Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bracke. The Reimers received word Monday of the birth of a daughter to the Brackes. Mrs. Bracke is the former Claire Reimers.

Nationalist Jet Attack Downs 4 Red Planes

came on the eve of the anniversary as communist guns remained silent under Peiping's seven-day cease-fire order:

1. Chiang's landing ships, no longer under U. S. navy escort but watched over by nationalist gunboats, poured heavy cargoes to the Quemoy islands in preparation for red renewal of the offshore battle. A U. S. military adviser estimated that seven craft which landed at Liaolo beach carried 7,000 tons—enough for minimum needs of Quemoy itself for almost three weeks. Among the supplies were cement for fortifications and charcoal for cooking and heating.

2. About 1,100 of Quemoy's 47,000 civilians were evacuated to Formosa. Most of these were students and teachers of the shelldamaged Kinmen (Quemoy) high school, unable to open this fall. The 964 students will be enrolled at schools in the Taipei area.

3. The chief magistrate of Little Quemoy disclosed that nationalist China is offering to move to Formosa all the 5,789 civilians living on that shell-battered island, second largest of the Quemoy group. But he said many—mostly young persons armed and trained in civil defense—wanted to stay despite the dangers and hardships of life only three miles from mainland guns.

4. Foreign Minister Huang Shao-ku declared in an Independence day speech the nationalists will never give up Quemoy and Matsu as the price for a permanent cease-fire. He said the communists have concentrated 400,000 troops opposite the islands and made virtually impossible any reduction in "our nationalist forces . . . less than one-fifth" that strong.

Proposed Change In Prayer Tabled

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Episcopal church has shunted aside a proposed change in the Lord's Prayer.

The diocese of Harrisburg, Pa., proposed at the church's general convention yesterday that the words "lead us not into temptation," be changed to "let us not fall into temptation."

The matter was promptly referred to a long-range study committee.

Heyburn's Traffic Offenders Warned

HEYBURN, Oct. 10—Village trustees warn that traffic laws and parking signs in Heyburn must be observed.

Special warnings were given concerning the practice of northbound traffic turning across the street in the middle of the block to park in front of the postoffice. Offenders will be cited.

In other business at the Wednesday meeting, trustees issued a building permit to Harold Hunter for a double brick garage on his property on 17th street.

B. Scovil and Orin Plumlee have finished work of sweeping the streets and painting the new parking stripes on Main street and around LDS church grounds.

Iraq King Leaves Big Sum in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—King Faisal II of Iraq, slain in the revolt that overthrew his government last July 14, left $500,000 in cash and securities in a New York City bank, it was disclosed yesterday in surrogates court.

This became known when the late King's aunt applied to Surrogate S. Samuel di Falco for an order allowing the City Bank Farmer Trust company to administer the assets now in the Irving Trust company.

Surrogate di Falco granted the application submitted by Emira Princess Rajha of London.

Nixon Defending Congress Record

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon last night termed the record of the 85th congress the best in American history.

Three Series Of Chryslers Slated in '59

Three series are offered in the 1959 Chryslers which are slated for display in dealer showrooms across Magic Valley beginning Oct. 24.

The Chrysler line includes the New Yorker, Saratoga and Windsor series, as well as the sport-styled Chrysler 300E.

Chrysler Windsors are powered by the all new Golden Lion 383 engines, with 305 horsepowr at 4,600 revolutions per minute. Other statistics on the engines show a bore of 4.03 inches, a stroke of 3.75 inches and 383 cubic-inch displacement.

Chrysler Saratoga models are powered by Golden Lion 383 engines with four-barrel carburetors. These engines develop 325 horsepower at 4,600 revolutions per minute.

Chrysler New Yorker models are powered by Golden Lion 413 engines, with 350 horsepower, 4,600 revolutions per minute, a bore of 4.18 inches, a stroke of 3.75 inches and displacement of 413 cubic inches.

Chrysler 300E models will be powered by a Golden Lion 413 with two four-barrel carburetors, dual air cleaners, dual exhausts, special camahafts, valve springs and dampers, intake manifold, a 3:31 to 1 axle ration and a 10.1 to 1 compression ratio. The engine will deliver 380 horsepower at 5,000 revolutions per minute.

New Yorkers and Windsors are offered in sedan, two and four-door hardtops, two and three-seat Town and Country wagons and convertible body styles.

Saratogas are offered in two and four-door hardtops and sedan body styles. The Chrysler 300E is available as a two-door hardtop or convertible.

New tires on most of the Chrysler models will provide "up to 10.4 square inches more trend in contact with the pavement at anytime." The tires are inflated to 16 pounds.

Being introduced in the 1959 Chryslers is a "Mirro-Matic" electronic rear view mirror, which prevents glare light into the driver's eyes at night.

Swivel seats, which swing outward for 40 degrees, are standard equipment on the 300D models and optional on all others except the Town and Country wagons.

Elected Pastor

HAGERMAN, Oct. 10—Elder Hale Glauner has been elected as branch pastor for the local Reorganized LDS church.

Elder Lysle Gilmore resigned as pastor as he was appointed as district president at a recent meeting in Boise. The district covers the area from Baker, Ore., to Rupert.

Elected counselors were George Allen, King Hill, Steve Winigar and Lysle Gilmore.

Pope in Typical Gestures

This sequence on Pope Pius XII leaning from a window of summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, Italy, was taken two years ago, in September, 1956, as he spoke to visitors in courtyard below. The pontiff died Wednesday after a second stroke and a heart attack. (AP wirephoto)

Hansen's Visitors Will Go Overseas

HANSEN, Oct. 10—Recent visitors here were Mrs. Wayne Likens and children who expect to join Likens soon in Germany where he teaches American children. He is a former Hansen high school teacher.

John Jr. Hill has returned following service in the armed forces overseas. His wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Simpson, met him at Shoshone.

Mrs. Jessie Calico accompanied Mrs. D. B. Wise to Los Angeles where she plans to visit her stepmother and family. Mrs. Wise has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pyron, and will visit her son and family at Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Plumlee will leave for their home at Hot Springs, Ark., after visiting the Pyrons.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

DECLO, Oct. 10—Mrs G. S. Marchant attended General Relief society conference in Salt Lake City.

INJURED BY PITCHFORK

RICHFIELD, Oct. 10—A pitchfork line was run through the hand of Janice Johnson, 11, at the ranch of her uncle, Monte Johnson, while her small sister, Teresa, 4, was holding the pitchfork. She received medical treatment at Shoshone before returning to Salt Lake City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson, who spent the weekend here.

Project Work Reviewed for Granger Meet

A review of Twin Falls Grange projects over the past few years was given by I. T. Creed Wednesday evening at the Grange hall during the group's annual booster night.

Creed, community service chairman, exhibited awards won by the Grange during the past 10 years.

Harvey Quesnell outlined the origin and purpose of the Grange movement.

Pictures of Washington, D. C., and Girls' Nation were shown by Shirley Daniels, who was sponsored by the group to Girls' state at Caldwell. Miss Daniels told of her part in both of the events. She was introduced by Mrs. H. L. Turner, lecturer.

City Traffic Officer Frank Barnett directed a discussion of safety rules and safe driving.

Following a welcome of members and guests by Grange Master Irvin Bodenstab, officers of the Grange performed the opening drill and presented the flag. Prayer was offered by Chaplain Guy Peters.

Refreshments were served by the home economics committee.

The next meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 22 at the Grange hall.

No Toy

WENDELL, N. C., Oct. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Bradley Roberts frowned when the snake fell from the chandelier at dinnertime. Another one of her son's toys! Only it wasn't.

Amid screams from Mrs. Roberts and her guest, son Keith safely snared the eight-inch copperhead, which apparently had chosen the chandelier as a retreat from cold weather.

GUESTS REPORTED

DECLO, Oct. 10—Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Osterhout were her mother, Mrs. Francis Gillett, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Park, Toelle, Utah.

Say, What Is This?

Pickets at the Zidell Machinery and Supply company in Portland, Ore., were somewhat upset to find themselves being picketed in turn by Lew Traub, left, a canvas manufacturer. He claims that the pickets' banners were made in a non-union shop. (NEA telephoto)

RETURN FROM MCCALL

WENDELL, Oct. 10—Mrs. M. A. McCloud and Mrs. Arthur Byce have returned to Wendell after attending the state home demonstration convention at McCall.

DON'T CHANGE TIRES ON THE ROAD

Changing tires on the roadside is always dangerous. This dangerous procedure can be eliminated by servicing tubeless tires with AIR GUARD, the "weightless" sealant.

MAKE YOUR TIRES PUNCTURE-SEALING

Add the safety of puncture-sealing to the tubeless tires now on your car. New puncture-sealant prevents sudden air loss even after puncturing object is ejected from the tread of your tire.

The most recent technological advance from United States Rubber's Research Laboratories is a "weightless sealant" called AIR GUARD. This sealant, when placed in tubeless tires, ends the danger of roadside tire changing due to tread punctures.

AIR GUARD makes any tubeless tire equal in mobile puncture safety to the highest priced puncture-sealing tires available today. All tubeless tires have puncture-sealing characteristics as long as the puncturing object remains in the tread.

Field tests proved, however, that tubeless tires serviced with AIR GUARD maintain safe, drivable air pressure for 48 hours after puncturing object has been thrown out.

At highway speeds, tires have a tendency to throw out the puncturing object, leaving a hole in the tread. Once the puncturing object is ejected, air loss is sudden and dangerous. With AIR GUARD in your tires you do not experience sudden air loss because AIR GUARD rushes in and plugs the hole left by the ejected puncturing object.

Safe, drivable air pressure is maintained for 48 hours. Thereafter, you simply bring air pressure back to normal. You can keep this up for hundreds of miles until permanent repair can be conveniently made.

All punctured tires eventually require permanent repairs, even the most expensive puncture-sealing types. AIR GUARD permits repairing in the regular manner; and, unlike other sealants, has no adverse effect upon the tire's performance. AIR GUARD does not affect the handling characteristics or riding qualities of your car. It will never cause out-of-balance condition.

AIR GUARD is an exclusive product of U. S. Rubber Company. This puncture-sealing service is rendered in less than an hour for all five tires. Come in today and add the safety of AIR GUARD to the tubeless tires now on your car.
